NEVADA COUNTY BUSINESS AND PROGRESS EDITION

September ✣ Mining ✣ Development ✣ Issue

Nevada County offers the inducements of good schools, low tax rates, and splendid health conditions to those who seek a home in a beautiful environment with a climate rarely excelled in California.

Nevada City Nugget

COVERS RICHEST GOLD AREA IN CALIFORNIA

Nevada County offers opportunities for success to men with capital, especially in mining industry. In agriculture, too, with the population rapidly increasing, there are many openings for farmers who know their business.

Mimes Employ 2518 Men in Nev. County

Mining employment continues near the peak, according to a survey completed with this issue by the Nevada City Nugget There are today 2518 miners employed in properties that are either producing or being developed in the county which means a payroll of approximately $380,000 per month.

With the exception of a few malcontents and professional agitators, an overwhelming majority of miners especially those who own their own homes and are rearing families here are apparently satisfied with labor conditions and the wage scale established earlier in the year. Nevada County, as for many years past, ranks first in California in wage scales and in good working conditions in the mines.

The Sunflower mine has recently been leased and exploratory work is being diligently prosecuted. On the Middle Yuba placers a drag line has been installed and new ground thoroughly tested.

GOLDEN TRIANGLE PROPERTY

Four men are stoping ore in the Golden Tioangle mine at Graniteville. W. W. Esterley of Grass Valley is in charge of the property.

MORNING STAR PROPERTY

In about ten days 20 tons of ore per day will be trucked from the Morning Star mine near Tyler to the Queen Lil custom mill at Nevada City operated by Hal D. Draper. J. Benton Wirt is operating the property by shaft and tunnel. There are several important ledges on the property.

McKENZIE MINE

An incline shaft heavily timbered is down 25 feet in the McKenzie mine west of Nevada City on the newly discovered ledge. A bunch f stringers found between the foot and hanging walls when worked up in a mortar and panned shows free gold. It is stated the walls are fully four feet apart and as sinking continues the width and quality of ore is improving. Two pumps keep the mine unwatered. Jim Ingram and Carl Kampe have the lease on the property.

ROTARY CLUB TO WELCOME FOUR NEW MEMBERS

At the Rotary Club meeting next Thursday in the National Hotel four new members will be welcomed into its ranks. Dr. John Engles of Auburn one of the early members in Rotary in California will deliver an address setting forth Rotary principles and opportunities. The four new members are Dick Worth, manager of the National Hotel; George Chaney, owner of the Nevada City Garage; Larry Noyes, proprietor of the Noyes Electrical Shop; and U. S. N. Johnson, owner of the Bret Harte Dairy.

On the following Thursday, September 30, Samuel T. Farquhar, superintendent of the University of California Press, will be the speaker. His topic will be: "What the University of California Press Does for the People of California." The Grass Valley Rotary club was today invited to join with the Nevada City club on that day to hear Mr. Farquhar.

Next Sunday a volunteer group of the Rotary club will undertake to erect the addition to Seaman's lodge, planned some time since, in order to give the Scouts, who hold a ten-year lease on the building a suitable home. The building was leased to the Scout and Campfire Girls organization on condition that an addition will be built. Oscar Odegaard is chairman of the committee in immediate charge of the work.

NEW CITY HALL HERALDS COMMUNITY PROGRESS

The new and modern City Hall pictured above provides rooms for the city council, the Chamber of Commerce, the chief of police, the superintendent of streets, and the fire truck driver It includes also an assembly room for the volunteer fire department and on the ground floor a place for the fire trucks and engines. In the rear is a jail, modernly equipped for the safe keeping of law violators. The cost of this fine, fire proof building was $41,500 of which the city contributed $18,500 and the WPA $23,000.

BOYS AT WHITE CLOUD ENJOY ART CRAFT WORK

Among the occupations of boys of the local CCC camp, during leisure hours, is handiwork in leather. The Missouri company which is "pulling out" tonight, has used over $475 worth of material making about 150 belts, 125 bill folds, 40 ladies hand bags, 40 cigarette cases, 40 key cases besides many other articles. The leather is purchased in specially prepared calf skin for tooling. Many original designs are fashioned by the men. One of the boys made a handsome white evening bag, the material casting him $2.75. Before he could send it to his girl friend it was admired by a camp visitor who persuaded him to sell it to her for $10. The off-time activities have proven very interesting and profitable to the men.

Besides regular classes in chosen subjects, correspondence courses, the boys have a program of sports and recreation which gives them opportunities for development and pleasure that is well worth while.

PLACER JUNIOR COLLEGE

The Placer Junior College played the Placer High School Tuesday in a very exciting game of football, the Junior College defeated the high school gridders 14 to 0. Merv Doolittle and Matt Burgan, N. C. students, saw action in the game.

The freshmen will elect their officers next Friday. Dorothy Thomas of Nevada City was nominated for vice president.

Friday the Junior College reserves will tangle with the Nevada City Yellowjackets at Nevada City.

STUDENTS TO BUILD FOOTBALL BLEACHERS

The executive council of the Nevada City high school Friday met and discussed plans for bleachers at the athletic field. If the council's action is ratified by the student body, construction will start immediately so as to be finished by Friday, Sept. 24, for the first football game. The council also made plans for song and yell leaders who are to try out Monday. Fred Garrison, made a speech and a few suggestions which the executive council appreciated. In council made provisions for regular meetings and for their organization.

NO STRIKE RESULT OF SATURDAY'S VOTE

According to B. M. Rice, chairman of the executive board of Local No. 283, I. U. M. M. & S. M. the "strike vote" held by the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers for the employes of the Golden Center and Murchie mines at the Gables on the Grass Valley-Neveda City highway Saturday, the Murchie mine employes voted 63 per cent for a strike and the Golden Center mine employes voted 66 2-3 per cent against a strike.

Rice declared that the executive board would recommend non-concurrence of the vote taken claiming that under the democratic constitution of the Internatonal it is impossible for the minority to rule over the majority and there being a minority of the employees casting votes on the question the board will recommend that the strike action be dropped and cases be referred to the National Labor Relations Board.

FOLSOM GUARD FORMERLY OF NEVADA CITY

Daily papers this morning carried a picture of Guard Carl Erikson, who went to the rescue of Warden Clarence Larkin and Captain W. J. Ryan in the Folsom break yesterday forenoon at 11:15.

Carl Erikson lived in this city several years and was a deputy sheriff under Ex-Sheriff George Carter for a time. Later as a diamond driller he was employed under J. B. Newsom at the Idaho-Maryland.

BIRTHDAY HONORED

Edna Doolittle and a group of high school students surprised John Muscardini, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Muscardini last week with a party honoring his birthday. The party was given at the Muscardini home. John has been suffering from a foot ailment for the past three or four weeks. When he returned from the doctor's office Wednesday he was greeted by his friends. He was the recipient of many presents.

COPPER CORRAL

The San Juan mine workings were closed down recently it is stated and a new prospect started on the same property, called the Copper Corral. Raymond Butterfield is in charge of new development. A car of ore has been shipped to Tacoma.

SPANISH MINE

Sixty men are employed at the upper and lower camps at the Spanish mine. Drifting and raising continues in ore in several faces carrying good values. Concentrates are being trucked to Nevada City for shipment to Selby's in the bay district.

By H. J. LOUGHRAN

From the modest beginning of a mere landmark of human habitation during the colorful Gold Rush period of California's early settlement, the marked growth and development that has featured Nevada County and the county's twin cities' steady advancement to present, pretentious, modern proportions, is, indeed, a matter for discussion wherever pioneer local residents gather.

The momentous happenings dating from Nevada County's original settlement down to the present writing, have been given deserved space in historic records recording the more salient movements and steady march of progress that have attended all of the early day, strategic, Western trading posts and commercial centers established by courageous men of strong faith and unbounded confidence throughout the various counties and districts of this great Golden State.

Of these, none can boast a greater, all round business and industrial advancement than can Nevada County and her far-famed twin cities as represented in Nevada City, the county seat, and her enterprising sister community, Grass Valley. Here, indeed, one finds at present, as at the momentous time of discovery, an immensely rich treasure trove so far-reaching in scope and seemingly inexhaustible in the continuous production of gold, that the county's total gold production from commencement of early operations until the close of 1933 was shown to be well in excess of $400,000,000.00.

During the interval since 1933, as in the past, consistent headway has been made in the rejuvination of famous old heavy producing properties; the exploration and development along modernistic lines of other equally famous, proven properties, and above all the bringing to light of many worthwhile gravel and quartz deposits. These, it should be noted, although in the embryo stage of development, when linked with other producing mines of the county, including, of course, gravel and the quartz properties of lesser magnitude, give excellent promise that Nevada County, which is the accredited banner gold county of California, will, in the not far distant future, again experience in generous measure, if not excell, former periods of historic glamor that has kept this favored secton of the "Golden State" constantly in the public eye since the Covered Wagon era.

At any rate, it is heartening to note that Nevada County throughout, and her more densely populated commercial centers as represented in Nevada City, Grass Valley and Truckee in particular, may, in this year of 1937, be properly likened to busy beehives of intelligently directed, useful industry and thrift, and the march of progress in innumerable, wisely conceived branches of human endeavor, continues to make appreciable, forward strides.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR ALL

Notwitthstanding the fact that Nevada County, as a potentially rich mining field surpassed by no other in the world, has been in the public eye for more than eighty years, the well considered statement has been repeatedly made by eminent engineers in the realm of mines and geology, and has never once been gainsaid, that the county's fabulously rich, hidden mineral treasures have, as yet, been scarcely scratched.

As proof of these assertions it will suffice to briefly remark that startling new discoveries in highly mineralized, virgin territory, are occasionally being made.

In the light of the foregoing, wide-awake, mining-minded investment

Mines in Nevada County Employ 2,600 Men

NELS JENSEN AND W. P. THOMAS RESPONSIBLE, RESPECTED MERCHANTS

As the enterprising, progressive moving spirits of the long established Jensen and Thomas Furniture Company which occupies one of the most attractive and altogether prominent locations in the hustling city of Grass Valley, Messrs. Nels Jensen and W. P. Thomas are daily faithfully and conscientiously providing the patriotic, home loving citizenry of Nevada County with prime quality merchandise covering everything of value remotely identified with fine home and institutional furniture, and general furnishings, just as efficiently and economically as really good goods can be honestly sold for in any of the country's metropolitan cities.

Enjoying, as the firm does, an unsullied reputation in well informed financial and trade circles at home and elsewhere, deserving patrons, whether rich or poor, when in need of anything handled in the spacious, well stocked premises of Jensen and Thomas, are not only dealt with fairly and honorably, but when legitimate accomodation is needed, this responsible firm's wisely maintained credit policy is conducted along such scrupulous, legitimate, and at the same time generous lines, as to make it possible for a mere child to trade hehre as safely as could a grown person.

In that Mr. Thomas' sturdy, courageous time honored forebears were numbered among the thrifty little band of pioneer settlers who located in Nevada County in 1848, it need hardly be said that this worthy native son of our own time deserves well at the hands of all who know him.

In a sense somewhat different with respect to continuous residential tenure, but none the less noteworthy in point of personal commercial and social worth to all classes of home people, Nels Jensen has, strictly on the ground of merit, acquired a standing, not only in Nevada County, but the whole of Northern California, that is of the very best.

Too much stress cannot be laid on the fact that the more palatial homes and public and private institutions, as well as the modest dwellings of this county's industrious miners and their dependent families have, as and when occasion required, been furnished throughout with suitable merchandise selected from the finely chosen stocks of furniture, furnishings and kindred household equipment always artistically displayed in the attractive show rooms for which the Jensen and Thomas Furniture Company is everywhere noted.

Our public-spirited County Supervisors and the patriotic taxpayers of the community as a whole, are to be complimented for the wisdom shown in awarding to this dependable, home owned firm the contract to provide the suitable, quality floor coverings and venetian blinds that play such a prominent part in adding to the interior rich adornment and beauty of Nevada County's new Court House.

This very important contract, it should be specifically stated for the information and enlightenment of all classes of Nevada County people, was conscientionsly executed with the same scrupulous care and practical and technical precision as that shown by the nationally reputable architect whose genius has given the people of Nevada County a model, imposing, new Court House which in point of exquisite beauty and enduring solidity is the equal of any of its kind in the land.

It is fitting and proper, therefore, that the respected and popular trade name of the Jensen and Thomas Furniture Company of Grass Valley be indelibly linked for all future time with the various other tried and trusted contractors whose particular specialty merchandise and fine handiwork is so plainly evidenced in every nook and corner of this great monumental edifice which is the pride ad joy of every well disposed resident within and without Nevada County.

Neither should sight be lost of the fact that the discriminating people of Nevada City, irrespective of rank or station, who have had dealings of any kind with the firm in question, have nothing but praise for the considerate, friendly treatment received at the hands of Nels Jensen and W. P. Thomas and their carefully chosen staff of assistants, a fact which, if no other, entitles these responsible local merchants to preferential co-operation and support by all who appreciate straight-forward dealing and unquestioned, honest value with every purchase.

G. H. CLELAND FRIENDLY AND ACCOMMODATING

The conveniently located, well manned and progressively managed gasoline service station owned and successfully operated by Mr. G. H. Cleland is numbered among Nevada City's more valuable commercial enterprises and is not only a credit to the home loving people of this prosperous communinty, but is an enterprise that speaks volumes for Mr. Cleland's inherent capacity to serve and please and is, therefore, held in high favor by the internationally famous Standard Oil Company whose unsurpassed products are handled by Mr. Cleland exclusively.

Being, as he is, a dependable friend and benefactor of local car and truck owners, and traveling motorists generally, perhaps no man similiarly engaged in the whole of Nevada County has given this scenic mountain district more valuable advertising through well informed tourist circles, than has Mr. Cleland. Cleland's completely fitted up, modern service station, is not only headquarters for the finest and best gasoline, oils, grease and other lubricants that money can buy, but the nationally popular tires, tubes and kindred, standard advertised merchandise handled have long ago won for this particular station, and its accommodating proprietor, Mr. Cleland, the confidence, good will and whole-hearted co-operation of all classes of appreciative people.

It is only right, therefore, while presenting this review to an interested, reading public, to cheerfully commend Mr. Cleland for the splendid service he has consistetly rendered Nevada City and its people since locating here.

GRASS VALLEY LAUNDRY AND DRY CLEANERS DO EXCELLENT WORK

A careful survey of Nevada County's mammoth industries and better class business houses maintained and progressively operated for the unselfish purpose of serving and satisfying all classes of people, should and must include the Grass Valley Laundry and Dry Cleaners. Here one finds a spacious, finely equipped, well staffed, model plant second perhaps, to none other of its kind in the whole of Northern California.

For these and other equally valid reasons, wide-awake, particular Nevada City residents find it both expedient and profitable to entrust washable materials of every conceivable kind and description, including the most delicate and costly lingerie and other articles of household and personal fabric finery, to this scruposly conducted laundry and dry cleaning establishment.

For the convenience and accomodation of all classes of Nevada City people, a punctual and dependable pick-up and delivery service is maintained, and considering the painstaking care scientifically exercised in the laundry's daily processing procedure, and the commendable manner in which the valued personal property of others is handled here, coupled with the faultless work turned out, no thinking man or woman, hotel or restaurant proprietor and boarding house or institutional operator, should have the slightest hesitancy in placing the utmost confidence in the management and highly satisfactory business procedure always demonstrated at the Grass Valley Steam Laundry and Dry Cleaners.

Plans for regulating auto trailer camps in adjoining cities and towns to San Francisco's 1939 International Exposition today are under way. Regulation will be strict but fair.

VALLEY TERRAZZO AND MARBLE COMPANY IMPORTANT BUILDING TRADES ADJUNCT

Not only Nevada City and County people, but this historic old county's great host of admirers and well-wishers, are whole-heartedly joining with our justly proud, local citizenry in giving free and frank expression to the satisfaction afforded one and all in having, after more than eighty years of colorful, moment-out record, an imposing, new Court House that reflects great credit on every single tradesman who has had a hand in its construction and equipment, and is as well, a most valuable asset to the more wisely conceived, useful government institutions calculated to efficiently serve the needs of the people of this glamorous "Golden State."

In just recognition, therefore, of the skilled handiwork of the various master craftsmen whose delicate finishing touches lend enduring splendor to this magnificent building which is a timely topic of friendly conversation at public and private gatherings everywhere in Nevada County and beyond, merited commendation is deservedly given to the Valley Terrazzo and Marble Company for the generous part it has taken in the conscientious carrying out of a flooring contract that not only insures trusting, local taxpayers who have unbounded faith in Nevada County's bright future, of the practical service looked for and expected in the matter of correctly arranged floor construction, but at the same time is distinguished by that unique, and we might add, rare brand of craftsmen artistry that reflects and enhances the stability and beauty of the great building throughout.

For this splendid, painstaking endeavor, Mr. George Rouland, the responsible moving spirit of the Valley Terrazzo and Marble Company of 4115 Berkshire Avenue, Sacramento, has won for himself and his highly trained staff of skilled, experienced workers, the everlasting confidence and good will of Nevada County government officials and residents without exception.

Financially responsible and always sincerely desirous of enhancing, economically and otherwise, the welfare of its valued patrons, the enterprising property owners of this and the neighboring counties throughout Northern California who would obtain, for the minimum of cost, the services of highly trained specialists in the fine art of floor and kindred construction, can make no mistake in consulting with the management of the Valley Terrazzo and Marble Company when there are contracts of any kind such as this financially responsible firm is capable of undertaking, in the offing.

Specializing in the scientific construction of Terrazzo and Marble floors; also wainscoting, in strict conformity with any design submitted or in line with distinctly unique, original designs of the firm's own creation, it is a well known fact that the Valley Terrazzo and Marble Company is in a class by itself in the whole of the West.

ITALIAN AMERICAN GROCERY WELL MANAGED ORGANIZATION

In the spacious, conveniently arranged and completely stocked, model premises of the Italian American Grocery Store Number 2, the farsighted, enterprising people of Grass Valley, Nevada City, and Nevada County as a whole, have a modern merchandising establishment which is in all respects a pronounced credit to the concern's responsible owners.

That the Italian American Grocery firm's energetic management anticipates every conceivable need of discriminating patrons is attested by the fact that artistically arranged, model store is a depository for everything of value in nationally popular brands of staple and fancy groceries, and kindred pure food table supplies that serve to insure happiness in the home and well ordered public eating houses.

An up-to-the-minute, model gasoline service station is a further notable feature of the extensive business transacted by this well thought of firm, and the great Union Oil Company, whose superior products are here exclusively dispensed, is to be complimented in having wisely chosen such a dependable concern as its accredited representative in this community.

All things considered, the Italian Ameican Grocery here, as elsewhere, is a pronounced credit to the trade and an economic asset of great worth to all classes of home people who duly appreciate unsurpassed service and honest value in first class merchandise with every purchase.

ROY MADSEN REPUTABLE BUILDING CONTRACTOR

Since the earliest settlements were made in this favored section of Northern California, Nevada County, and more particularly Nevada City and Grass Valley, has been deservedly noted for the substantial homes, business houses and public and private institutions erected here. These include of course, the finest and best structures necessary in the development of this county's fabulsuoly rich mines, as well as mills and other essential buildings in connection with an industry that has made this county famous the world over.

Notwithstanding the fact that we are now rapidly approaching the century mark of Nevada County's historic international prominence, there is, at the present writing, excellent reason to believe that the continued greater devlopment from this time forward in innumerable lines of trade, commerce and mining activity, will soon equal, if not outdo some of the glorious happenings of the past.

It is only right, therefore, while reviewing Nevada County's general progress at this time, to single out for merited commendation Mr. Roy Madsen, whose conceded worth as an experienced, responsible building contractor is already recognized and duly appreciated by thinking property owners and others who have the best interests of Nevada County's progressive twin cities, and the county as a whole, at heart.

A high-minded, public-spirited, conscientious citizen who has made every phase of the modern building contracting business a life study, there is absolutely no essential practical or technical angle of the trade with which Mr. Madsen is not thoroughly familiar.

In this respect his skilled handiwork in buildings already completed, and others at present in course of erection, stands out prominently as a shining example of the good name and reputation Mr. Madsen has honestly won for himself throughout the period of his active, creditable career.

Noteworthy work at present well under way by Mr. Madsen in Grass Valley are two pretentious buildings, one for the Finance Company of Nevada and Placer counties, already nearing completion, and the other for the Masonic Order. In point of substantial, well conceived construction and architectural beauty of design, both these modern buildings will add greatly to Grass Valley's commercial stability, and at the same time serve as a needed, useful innovation in a proposed new building movement that will enable the Twin Cities and Nevada County, henceforth, as in the past, lead in Northern California's consistent business and industrial progression.

Surrounding himself with none but highly trained, efficient workmen, and using only the quality materials for which accepted plans and specifications call, it is no wonder Roy Madsen enjoys the confidence and good will of architects and construction engineers at home and elsewhere and more particularly, firms and individuals for whom he has done work.

Honest to the last penny in all his transactions, and traditionally imbued with a sincere effort to faithfully serve and please discerning patrons, whether rich or poor, sight should not be lost of the fact by patriotic Nevada County people, that Roy Madsen's qualifications not only cover the category of an outstanding, scrupulous building contractor, but he is, as well, a public spirited home citizen and substantial taxpayer who deserves, and should have, his fair share of public and private construction work offering in this promising field.

HAPPY HOUR RESORT APPROPRIATELY NAMED

Conveniently situated but little more than one mile outside Grass Valley's city limits on the Colfax highway and in the immediate vicinity of Union Hill Schoolhouse, the pleasure loving people of Nevada City, irrespective of age, rank or station, would do well to take advantage of the inviting atmosphere, excellent dining service and delicious liquid refreshments, which feature the Happy Hour Resort which is deservedly looked upon as one of Nevada County's more popular social gathering places.

Genuine Italian dinners, including tempting chicken and ravoli; also raviolas to take home, are, it should be noted, correctly prepared and daintily served at the Happy Hour Resort in a traditional Old World setting which, when combined with the modern, romantic atmosphere which pervades the premises throughout certainly entitles this finely managed, home owned enterprise and its responsible and respected owners, Mrs. Angeline Parente and family, not only to the generous patronage of Nevada City people, but the thinking residents of Nevada County without exception, as well as visitors who come here daily from widely scattered parts of the world.

NEW COURT HOUSE PAINT JOB LOVELY TO BEHOLD

In this hustling age of scientific advancement in all lines of business, industry and the professions, the various specialty departments of the building trades of our state and nation are, in the main, not only fully abreasts of the times, but in many respects well in advance of the times. As proof of the foregoing, carefully considered assertion, Nevada County's completely remodeled new Court House stands out at present, and will for generations hence, as a shining example of the skilled handiwork of the various specialty craftsmen who, in scrupulously following out the architect's finely conceived scheme of things, have given to Nevada County and its people an enduring gem in unique architectural creation that reflects well on all who have had a hand in its construction, equipment and finish.

Of these financially solid, reputable, widely known individuals and concerns, the time-honored painting and decorating firm of Willcoxon and Wilson, whose correctly systematized offices and well stocked, spacious, essential work premises are conveniently located at 1724-34th Street, Sacramento, has so painstakingly carried out its obligation with the duly constituted authorities charged with the management of Nevada County's extensive affairs, that thinking taxpayers without exception are not only evidencing complete satisfaction on all sides with the excellent taste shown in the harmonious paint color scheme decided upon, but above all, the prime quality of ingredients used, and the very efficient manner in which this paint job was executed throughout.

This, however, is not a matter for undue wonderment when it is remembered that the firm of Willcoxon and Wilson which is ably carried on and scrupulously manager by Mr. N. L. Willcoxon, has long ago deservedly won a standing in building trades circles throughout the length and breadth of California, and far beyond, that is constantly being favorably commented upon by outstanding architects, construction engineers and building contractors alike.

No other competitive concern in the country of which we have knowledge, tries harder to faithfully and efficiently serve and please patrons, than does Willcoxon and Wilson. Experienced, conscientious tradesmen are employed, and only the finest, purest and best ingredients that money can buy are used in the execution of contracts, whether large or small, to the end that the firm's eagerly sought services throughout widely scattered sections of California and beyond are in constant demand.

Certainly Mr. Willcoxon is to be complimented on the fact that in line with his firm's well known business principles, he has given Nevada County taxpayers honest value for their money, a fact which will be so well remembered that he is already assured of seasonal, return visits to the sister communities of Nevada City and Grass Valley, and other growing points in Nevada County, as and when occasion requires.

NEVADA CITY SANITARIUM WELL MANAGED INSTITUTION

While reviewing at this time of national and inter-national economic re-adjustment the worthwhile things that have in the past, and are at present, of paramount concern to the home loving, enterprising people of Nevada County, the state of California and the country at large, it is only fair to here frankly state that Nevada City has not at this writing, and never has had, a public or private institution designed to serve far-sighted people within its borders, worthy of more merited commendation, than is the well managed and correctly appointed Nevada City Sanitarium.

Nestling, as it does, in the city's more exclusive residential section amid a veritable bower of year round natural charm and beauty, this widely known and well thought of sanitarium is, in truth and in fact, a haven of rest that offers in generous measure the very essential brand of relaxation, happiness and contentment so necessary to the restoration of normal human vigor and good health.

Under the experienced management and skilled hands of Elizabeth McD. Watson and her carefully chosen staff of capable assistants, the Nevada City Sanitarium has, strictly on the merits of unsurpassed services rendered patients, whether old or young, friend or stranger, rich or poor, won the admiration and unqualified commendation of Nevada County's time honored materia-medica practioners and the unanimous good will of all classes of this community's citizenry who regard this home owned and scrupulously conducted institution as a really friendly home when away from home.

A highly respected, well disposed, conscientious business woman of marked cultural attainments and fine practical and technical understanding of the humanitarian work in hand, Miss McD. Watson brings to bear in everything she does that gentle touch of kindly application so inspiring and far reaching that thinking patients entrusted to her care, irrespective of rank or station, in due course leave the institution with nothing but praise on their lips for the excellent treatment received while incapcitated, and this well earned recognition is periodically publicized throughout widely scattered sections of California and the neighboring states, to the noteworthy end that the Nevada City Sanitarium is rightfully looked upon as one of Nevada County's health restorative assets.

An accredited member of the Western Hospital Association, the Nevada City Sanitarium is open to all reputable physicians and surgeons, and enjoys a generous measure of community favor surpassed by no other public or private institution of the kind in the state of California. We are, accordingly, voicing the warm hearted sentiments of all classes of home loving people when we bespeak for the Nevada City Sanitarium and its energetic, responsible and respected moving spirit, Miss Elizabeth McD. Watson a long continuance of the favor and co-operation this finely appointed sanitarium has enjoyed since its inception.

BRET HARTE INN CHEERY AND INVITING

Rich in natural resources and favored beyond description in matchless scenic grandeur, Grass Valley, as the chief social and commercial center of a lovely mountain hinterland situated in the very bosom of picturesque Nevada County, justly boasts the Bret Harte Inn as among its better patronized, year-round, finely maintained stopping places. Nestling in the sunshine of an awe-inspiring, mountai resort country that might properly be likened to a constantly changing, panoramic view of beautiful nature, it is indeed fitting and proper that the pride of Grass Valley's more outstanding public houses and Nevada County's leading hotel as represented in the Bret Harte Inn, is aptly named for the famous author of happy memory who, when California was in its infancy, found inspiration in Nevada County that has, during the interval, helped immortalize this favored county and its people in both song and story.

No wonder the observing stranger marvels upon entering the spacious portals of Grass Valley's correctly arranged and tastefully furnished Bret Harte Inn. Here, indeed, is a finely maintained and scruplously operated hotel of such pleasing architectural design as to betoken the desirable, age-old blending of romance coupled with the worthwhile things in approved modernization that make for satisfying comfort and convenience.

National and international celebrities, as well as discerning men, women and families-of-affairs, when in Northern California, invariably seek out Nevada County as an ideal spot in which to ponder over the momentous, colorful happenings of other days, and all such interesting journeys invariably terminate at the Bret Hare Inn in Grass Valley, which has long been justly regarded as one of the more thoroughly pleasing and altogether satisfying hotel beacons of good cheer in the whole of Northern California.

Widely traveled commercial men from practically every state in the Union who make this territory, have no hesitancy in affirming that the Bret Harte Inn is in many respects in a class by itself, particularly in that distinctive brand of public catering that tends to make trusting, appreciative wayfarers, whether friend or stranger, feel perfectly at home.

Needless, of course, to state, that the always inviting Bret Harte Inn is the logical pivot center around which revolve the principal social activtiies of Grass Valley, Nevada City and Nevada County as a whole.

To Mr. James C. Tyrell, the responsible and everywhere respected managing director of Bret Harte Inn, belongs great credit for the very commendable part he has so long unselfishly played in providing Nevada Counry with a really first class hotel that is not only a well ordered home for its valued patrons when away from home, but a beacon of good cheer in unexcelled hotel accomodations that reflects, as nothing else could, on Mr. Tyrrell's conceded capacity to faithfully serve and please, and at the same time maintain for the picturesque sister communities of Grass Valley and Nevada City the fine reputation for whole-hearted hospitality both have deservedly enjoyed for the past three quarters of a century.

HARVEY H. HOLLAND OUTSTANDING MASTER PLUMBER

Nevada County's magnificent new Court House which is being favorably commented upon in building trades circles throughout the Pacific Coast and elsewhere, is not only a credit to the thinking people of Nevada City and County, but every home loving Californian who has the best interests of the "Golden State" sincererly at heart.

Of the various well thought of, experienced tradesmen who have had a hand in any of the branches of skilled workmanshhip that distinguihes this model Court House as among the finest of the kind in the state, none, perhaps, is more justly deserving of merited commendation at our hands than is Mr. Harvey H. Holland of 1715 P. Street, Sacramento.

A master plumber and hard working, conscientious tradesman of lifelong experience in the faithful and honorable execution of his particular contract, Mr. Holland completed every detail of the very important work entrusted to him in such a straight-forward, honest and strictly business like manner as to have won the praise of county officials and insured all round satisfaction.

Since, therefore, the sign of the times at present indicates a bright and prosperous future for Nevada County, the new Court House is regarded by many as a worthwhile beginning for other needed public and private modern structures soon to be brought into being. When this contemplated movement gets under way, it is hardly necessary to here more than casually remind civic and county officials, and property owners without exception, that trustworthy, experienced master plumbers of the type and caliber of Harvey H. Holland should be kept well in mind when there is work of any kind in his specialty line to be taken care of.

GLENBROOK DAIRY HAS FINE RECORD

Ideally located midway between Nevada City and Grass Valley is the model Glenbrook Dairy, owned and successfully operated by Mr. E. P. Sutton, who is not only a worthy native son of Nevada County, but a public-spirited, local man who enjoys the distinction of being this district's pioneer dairyman and dependable friend of both rich and poor.

An expert judge of all classes of domestic livestock, and dairy animals in particular, Mr. Sutton's outstanding herd of carefully selected, high producing Jersey cows has, by virtue of the rich, wholesome, delicious milk and cream constantly dispensed to a critical, consuming public, popularized the respected trade name of Glenbrook Dairy in the homes, business houses and public and private institutions thoughout the extensive territory served.

The valuable Glenbrook Dairy farm and the farm's correctly bred, contented bovine boarders, including buildings and spacious milk house and plant thereon, separately and collectively represent all that the most particular could desire in the matter of the scrupulous exercise of sanitary precautions calculated to properly safeguard the health of appreciative patrons, and otherwise promote human happiness.

Indeed, in view of the unsullied reputation deservedly borne by Mr. Sutton throughout his long and useful career, it is hardly necessary to again call attention to the fact that friend and stranger alike, fortunate enough to procure needed milk and cream supplies from Glenbrook Dairy are now, as always, in absolutely safe hands.

BUFFALO BREWING COMPANY NORTHERN CALIFORNIA ASSET

An outstanding Northern California home industry that has, since its inception, shown consistent, healthy growth and expansion, the Buffalo Brewing Company, with home and headquarters in the Capltol City of Sacramento, ranks well with any other enterprise of the kind in the country. That this firm's spacious, modern plant is in all respects a model of 20th Century progress can be best understood and appreciated when it is remembered that the two Brew Kettles have a daily capacity of 550 barrels; the Fermenting Cellar accomodates 5000 barrels of fermentation at one time and the Storage Cellar lagers, or stores, 27,500 barrels at one time. A barrel contains 31 gallons. From the foregoing facts it can be seen that an aged and well matured beer is assured at all seasons of the year.

Needless to state, the machines and kindred mechanical devices installed in this pretentious plant are the equal of the best obtainable. Mr. Frank Silber, who served under, and assisted Mr. F. C. Wallner who, until his death last Jaunary, was the firm's responsible Brewmaster, has, since his youth, undergone an international schooling that has enabled him to take his place among the more distinguished fellow members in his chosen field throughout this country and abroad.

Mr. Silber's years of practical experience and academic training as exemplified in the scientific manufacture of prime quality, wholesome, palatable Buffalo Beer, which is the brewery's widely known, popular product, speak far more forcibly than could any words of ours respecting the conceded, intrinsic worth of this mammoth brewery to the cities, towns and hamlets of Northern California as a whole, and those of Nevada County in particular.

Indeed, discriminating, thinking distributors and retail dealers actively engaged in catering to the invigorating liquid refreshment needs of all classes of patriotic Nevada County people, would do well to give serious thought to a long established truism, namely; that merited, preferential patronage and support extended to the Buffalo Brewing Company will in future, as in the past, bring to this county and its far-sighted citizenry, legitimate, generous rewards of various classifications that need not here be narrated in detail.

Using only the finest and purest ingredients that money can buy in the scientific manufacture of its delicious amber fluid, and scrupulously exercising every known, approved, sanitary precaution calculated to safeguard human health, and at the same time promote family happiness, it is not surprising that Buffalo Beer has come to be looked upon by connoisseurs and the consuming public throughout this brewery's ever expanding trade area, as in a class by itself. It should also be noted with emphasis that deserving, local farmers find a ready market with this patriotic concern for the sale of home grown, quality products of the specialty varieties used in first class, well ordered breweries.

That this well conducted brewery has, since commencement of business, succeeded, strictly on the merits of the conceded worth of its aptly named Buffalo Beer painstakingly brewed under ideal cnoditions, and the straight-forward, law-abiding and honorable principles employed in the conduct of the extensive business built up, reflects great credit on Mr. F. J. Ruhstaller, the firm's enterprising president, as also the fine force necessary to keep all departments in smooth operation.

Public-spirited to a fault, broadgaged in its methods and sincerely interested in helping promote the welfare of patrons and the deserving citizenry of the wide territory served, the Buffala Brewing Company has, under the intelligent direction of its chief executive and staff, set a creditable pace in the business and industrial life of Sacramento and Northern California that might well be emulated by other serious-minded thinkers and doers who value the manifold, year-round advantages this great "Golden State" has to offer all classes of people.

MR. AND MRS. GUS DIMMEN POPULAR HOTEL HOSTS

The well fitted up and comfortably furnished Sierra Hotel ideally located at 305 Spring street, occupies what is truly regarded as one of Nevada City's more historic and altogether memorable, pioneer landmarks. During the earlier years of the city's more active existence this particular site served as the long established home of one of Northern California's most popular breweries, and the amber fluid here turned out was always in demand wherever offered for sale.

Under the ownership and careful, personal supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Dimmen, it is not to be wondered at that the well known Sierra Hotel, which is one of the coziest and most tastefully arranged stopping places of the kind in the whole of Nevada County, numbers among its appreciative patrons and warm friends, not a few particular men, women and young people, just as did these same premises when given over to the housing of Nevada City's well managed, famous old brewery.

Always on hand to make permanent and transient guests feel perfectly at home, there are very few hotel proprietors in this modernistic age elsewhere in the country who take greater pride in keeping their valuable property throughout in a strictly clean, sanitary and inviting condition, than do Mr. and Mrs. Dimmen. Neither is there a single hotel elsewhere in California more deserving of generous patronage, than is the Sierra, nor is there a more public-spirited couple of whom we have knowledge, more justly entitled to the esteem and respect of the home-loving people of this prosperous community, than is Gus Dimmen and his energetic, industrious wife.

Visitors to SanFrancisco's 1939 World's Fair will see sights at the exposition by riding around on individual motorized scooters capable of making 40 miles an hour.

MOUNT SAINT MARY'S ACADEMY VALUABLE INSTITUTION OF LEARNING

As a progressive city of cultural, social and up-to-the-minute educational attainments, Grass Valley ranks with any other community of equal population elsewhere in the whole of the West. Under the latter named category it is a matter of historic, as well as current record, that the spacious, long established Mount Saint Mary's Academy is, and always has been, strictly on the merits of good work consistently accomplished since the institution's inception 74 years ago, justly entiled to a deserved place of distinction in these pages.

That this time honored, scrupulously conducted academy is, in truth and in fact, a correctly unified school of approved learning in the matter of higher educational advancement and advantages is amply attested by the splendid range of well ordered studies pursued. In this respect it will suffice for the information and enlightenment of discerning Nevada County readers, and the thinking citizenry of Northern California, as a whole, to here briefly point out that the Academy's High School Department is duly accredited to the University of California and all state normals, while the Music Department is likewise accredited to the Arrillaga Musical College of San Francisco.

At this point we deem it well to mention that Mount Saint Mary's Academy is ably presided over by the good Sisters of Mercy, a highly qualified teaching order whose commendable work in the fine art of correct instruction and training, is known throughout the length and breadth of this continent and abroad.

A further outstanding feature of Mount Saint Mary's model Academy, and certainly one that should prove of paramount concern to ambitious young men and women desirous of making the most of opportunities offering in the judicious, economic utilization of available time, and the useful development of talents endowed by a generous Providence, is the widely known, conceded fact that Mount Saint Mary's Academy is, and long has been, deservedly looked upon as Northern California's foremost Business College in the truest sense of the term.

Here wide-awake, enterprising young people are given the benefit of participating in a thorough course of business training becoming a finely systematized school of modern commerce that is in all respects on a par with the best obtainable in any other institution of the kind in the entire country.

For the purpose of better illustrating this truism, too much stress cannot be laid on the fact that the worthy students of Mount Saint Mary's who are annually turned out of this well managed, home institution, continue at present, as heretofore, to acquit themselves in their respective sphere of useful business, professional and industrial activity, along lines that reflect well on their own inherent aptitude and versatile capacity, and at the same time help enhance, as nothing else could, the excellent reputation Mount Saint Mary's Academy has always deservedly enjoyed.

Further comment dealing with this salient feature of Nevada County's advancement and its twin cities' merited "place in the sun" in the more worthwhile matters having to do with our county and state's thrift and progression, is unnecessary, other than to briefly reiterate an oft repeated statement that strictly on the ground of merit, Mount Saint Mary's Academy is entitled to a long continuance of the community favor and support so richly earned throughout the long years of its epoch making existence.

MOUNTAIN VIEW AUTO COURT CLEAN AND INVITING

The artistically arranged Mountain View Auto Court ideally situated just beyond the eastern boundary of Nevada City on the Uklah Highway, deserves to be classified in this review as one of Nevada County's finest tourist assets. Nestling, as it does, in the very bosom of an internationally popular, scenic, mountain fairyland, no little credit is due Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Malcolm for the sound judgment and foresight shown in selecting this beauty spot for the establishment of an auto court business that has steadily grown in popularity with local people and strangers alike, since the first unit of the court was brought into being.

A skilled carpenter of lifelong experience and a conscientious tradesman whose fine handiwork is his best recommendation, Mr. Malcolm has incorporated into the half dozen, model cabins already completed, such modern conveniences and advantages as are those to be found only in better class stopping places of this kind. Pretentious plans are already formulated for the erection of additional cabins and community utility buildings, as well as the platting, landscaping and general beautification of the spacious grounds that surround Mountain View Auto Court, which is in all respects one of the most restful and altogether satisfying wayside stopping places of the kind on the Pacific Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm combine their forces so intelligently and harmoniously that their appreciative guests, who, in the main, are people of well known social prominence in their respective home communities, have nothing but praise for the painstaking service, conscientious treatment and economic advantages shown at the hands of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm. Small wonder, therefore, Mountain View Auto Court cabins are in year round demand by transient visitors during the tourist seasons, and by permanent, local people during the winter months.

LANDIS HOSPITAL AND CLINIC VALUABLE ASSET

Modern hospitalization in cities and towns worthy of the name is a conceded hallmark indicative of civic pride and a sincere desire on the part of thinking men and women to provide such facilities as are most necessary and essential to successfully cope with the many and varied contingencies coming under the category of all manner of physical infirmities to which humanity is heir.

On the other hand, wherever well managed and well maintained hospital accommodation is lacking, communities so affected sustain a loss in county, state and national prestige that cannot be estimated from the viewpoint of dollars and cents.

While, therefore, summarizing in this progress edition the more outstanding things that have, for upward of one hundred years, kept Nevada County's potential greatness constantly in the public eye, we have also endeavored to set forth a faithful portrayal of the more salient things that are at present contributing, not only to Nevada County's marked business and industrial enterprise and consequent prosperity, but the health, happiness and contentment of our county's citizenry as well.

Under this latter category, too much merited credit cannot be accorded the scrupulously appointed Landis Hospital and Clinic which, during the four years of its existence, has made an indelible impression for great good in Nevada County's twin cities, and the county as a whole.

By virtue of Nevada County's immesely rich, developed, partially developed and as yet undeveloped, mineral territory, to say nothing of numerous other valuable, virgin, natural resources, it is the consensus of opinion in well informed rehabilitation circles, that as an ideal scenic and health location for desirable, year-round homesites, coupled with continuous new undertakings in business and industry, Nevada County faces a bright and prosperous future and is destined, 'ere long, to accommodate a population that will compare favorably with any of the state's more densely settled, rural localities.

From this viewpoint, if no other, the Landis Hospital and Clinic has already come to be looked upon, indeed, welcomed, as a permanent county asset of major importance to the well being of every thinking property owner and discerning wage earner domiciled within the county's borders, and the wide territory around. Not only is this splendid institution a shining example of approved 20th Century procedure in well ordered and scrupulously managed hospitalization, but in a literal sense, it deserves to be looked upon as the highest form of silent tribute that a grateful, local people could possibly pay to its far-sighted creator and responsible head in the person of Doctor Richard P. Landis.

Skilled surgeons and materia-medica practitioners of undoubted professional competency, Doctor Landis and his worthy co-worker and associate, Doctor Charles Wood, combine their forces so efficiently and effectively as to have deservedly won the confidence, co-operation and good will of all classes of right thinking local people, and their trusting patients in particular.

In its fittings, furnishings and laboratory and surgery equipment, including, of course, other appointments for the convenience of patients, staff and visitors, the Landis Hospital and Clinic is a substantial Grass Valley fixture surpassed by no other public or private institution of the kind within or without the state of California.

A model hospital and clinic in the truest sense of the term, Doctor Landis, in his wisdom and foresight has made ample provision for the handling, with promptness and dispatch, of cases coming under almost every conceivable category of human disability, and to this end the various model departments of this well thought of, home-owned institution are presided over by conscientious specialists in surgery and medicine, headed by Doctor Landis himself, and assisted by Doctor Wood, while Doctor Walter Durfee, an optometrist of wide practical and technical experience in the things peculiar to his specialty calling, is regarded by all who know him as the right man in the right place.

Spacious quarters are given over for the practice of modern dentistry in all its branches, and of no less importance to an inteested public is the retention of Howard Joseph, a skilled chiropodist whose expert knowledge of the treatment and care of the human foot makes him a most valuable acquisition to the Landis Hospital and Clinic, and the community at large.

Nevada County pioneers have the right to be justly proud of not a few of their own native born sons and daughters whose genius, thrift and noteworthy achievement in various fields of useful endeavor have reflected well on this county and state. In this respect Doctor Landis, while a comparative newcomer, is, in truth and in fact, a most valuable acquisition to the prosperous community of Grass Valley, which he wisely selected as the permanent site of his hospital and clinic.

A keen student of the mysteries of science and nature as exemplified in the broad field of never-ending search and research, the Landis Transfusion Syringe, which has been acclaimed within and without the medical profession as a timely, scientific innovation of incalculable worth fully justifies the well consideed opinion of this newspaper, and Nevada County's populace as a whole, that the Landis Hospital and Clinic, and Doctor Landis personally, together with his institutions professional personnel and his carefully chosen staff of highly trained, accommodating, graduate nurses, separately and collectively, stand out as a pronounced boon to the present and future prosperity, health, happiness and contentment of Nevada County and its people.

H. S. ANDERSON ENJOYS COMMUNITY GOOD WILL

Having held a position of trust with one of the country's nationally reputable, major oil companies for no less than seven consecutive years prior to taking over the control and operation of the popular Pee Dee Que Super Service Station ideally located at the junction of Sacramento and Pine streets, in Nevada City, on the main traveled artery connecting Nevada City with Grass Valley, Mr. H. S. Anderson has since locating here one year ago, established such a creditable record for courteous, considerate treatment accorded all classes of deserving people, that his modern Pee Dee Que Service Station has steadily grown in community favor and has, accordingly, proven a most satisfactory outlet for the dispensing of the quality Associated and Mohawk products handled.

Experienced, conscientious service station operators such as Mr. Anderson cannot be too highly regarded or too generously patronized by the thinking people of any community, and in recognition of the really good work he has accomplished since coming to Nevada City in his considerate, courteous treatment of home car and truck owners, and more particularly, visiting strangers who carry to their respective homes elsewhere in the state and nation, pleasing accounts of the satisfactory manner in which they have been dealt with while visiting this city and district, justifies our bespeaking for Mr. Anderson a long continuance of whole-hearted community support.

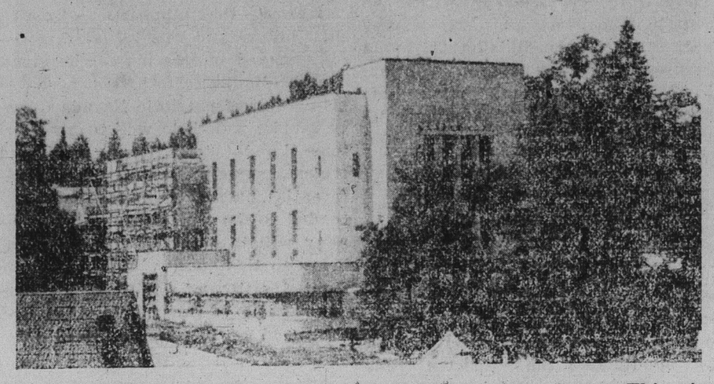
ANOTHER VIEW OF THE SPLENDID, FIRE PROOF, COUNTY COURT HOUSE



This is a second view of the Nevada County court house. This view was taken by Myers Mobley while the scaffolding was still clinging to the rear of the building where the new, up-to-date jail is located.

A. HARTUNG'S, AN OLD AND RESPECTED JEWELRY STORE

The business now owned by Mr. A. Hartung, jeweler, had its first inception in a frame building situated on Broad street. The building was where the Bennetts building is now standing. The jewelery business in this building was first started by Mr. F. C. Luetje, who was a skilled watchmaker. This was in the year 1866, when Nevada (without the "city"), was just a "little fellow."

In 1872, Mr. C. J. Brand, a first-class manufacturing jeweler became associated with Mr. Luetje and they conducted two departments independent of each other in the same store. Mr. Brand took care of the manufacture and sale of jewelry and silverware and Mr. Luetje was responsible for the repairing of watches, clocks and carried a stock of goods. Mr. Brand and this jewelry company was famous for making gold nugget jewelry and his fine workmanship with this material. Mr. Brand once made a gold horseshoe inset with gold quartz and petrified wood for Mr. John Spaulding who had a number of horses and kept it for a souvenir.

Their business was very successful and increased so much that it was necessary to have more space. On a warm June day in 1874, they moved into the building at 306 Broad street, the present building of the A. Hartung store. After moving into this new building, the Brand-Luetje company increased their stock of goods a great deal.

In the winter of 1875, Mr. A. Hartung was broken in as an apprentice by Mr. Luetje. Mr. Hartung served for five years in that capacity and later attended an horological school in Europe. It was about this time that the clock, which everyone notices when they go in the store, nowadays, was purchased from a firm in the East. The clock has a Swiss movement and an American case. The large pendulum in the clock has ticked faithfully for forty five years and is respected by all who look at it.

Mr. A. Hartung was admitted as a partner with F. C. Luetje, and this partnership continued successfully until about 1897, when H. W. Hartung, who had also leaned the trade, finishing in Philadelphia and Chicago, bought out the one half interest of Mr. Luetje and the Hartung Brothers formed a co-partnership under the firm name of A. and H. W. Hartung. The partnership continued until 1916, when it was dissolved by mutual consent. H. W. Hartung took over the Grass Valley store and A. Hartung continued in the Nevada City store. This Grass Valley store was purchased from Carl Zapf, Mr. A. Hartung and son, Everett, H. W. Brand formed a co-partnership under the name of E. W. Hartung and Company. Owing to the death of E. W. Hartung, this partnership was dissolved later and H. W. Hartung took over, by purchase, the entire stock and good will of the firm. There are a few people, perhaps, who can remember an explosion about this time in Nevada City. It was a dynamite explosion and blew out almost all the narow store windows in town. Because of this, the present plate glass window was installed.

Herman W. Brand, who had learned the jewelers' trade under his father was accepted as a full partner by his father in 1897. This jewelry company was known as the C. J. Brand and Son Jewelry Store. It is interesting to note that at one time there were five people working in this store.

The Brand family continued the business until 1925. The male members of the family having passed on, the mother and daughter decided to close out the business and conducted a sale of the fixtures. Mr. A. Hartung purchased their fixtures and put in a stock of jewelery and silverware and has continued the business successfully up to the present time, assisted ably by Miss Maude Keenan, who has been an employee in the store since 1922.

One can readily understand the pride that not only the owner of such a business feels in its long and honorable history, but also that of Nevada City's old time families who still use and esteem silverware, watches and clocks purchased from A. Hartung and the members of the Brand and Hartung families in years agone. Honest craftsmanship and honest values endure in honor through the years.

NEVADA CITY BOTTLING WORKS MODEL HOME INDUSTRY

The Nevada City Bottling Works under the responsible ownership and progressive management of Mr. E. R. Stambaugh, deserves classification as among Nevada County's really useful home industries that are entitled to the preferential consideration and support of all classes of patriotic, local people.

Nowhere in the country are more delicious, prime quality carbonated beverages more scrupulously or painstakingly prepared under approved sanitary conditions for human consumption, than is the case at Mr. Stambaugh's completely fitted up plant.

Since, therefore, Nevada County is already deservedly recognized the country over as among California's more popular, year-round, scenic resort and health centers, not only should public-spirited, local people feel justly proud of the Nevada City Bottling Works, but cheerfully cooperate with Mr Stambaugh in helping make this useful Nevada County enterprise one of the most notable of the kind in the West.

ERROL MacBOYLE LOYAL NEVADA COUNTY STANDBY

Nevada County can, in her more than eighty years of creditable, colorful gravel and quartz mining history, point with no little pride to not a few high-minded, public-spirited men and women who have been prominently identified with the generations that have come and gone, and have, by virtue of their fine leadership and unerring conception of the needs of a new country and its people, left an indelible impression for good in this county's remarkable growth and development.

While, therefore, reviewing the more noteworthy doings of thinking men and women-of-affairs throughout our county's bristling history, it is doubtful if at any time since the first explorations were undertaken and stettlements effected where the county's Twin Cities now stand, a single human soul of past or present record has generously and unselfishly employed his or her valuable time and talents more usefully in the common interest of all and sundry domiciled here, than has one of Nevada County's, and we might add, California's more respected and esteemed citizens of the present day in the person of Mr. Errol MacBoyle.

By nature and by training a keen student of the things that make for humanitarian uplift and community well-being, Errol MacBoyle, imbued with the conviction of his own belief in fundamental "Golden Rule" principles, launched out, bereft of purse of script, at a comparatively early age, to, notwithstanding the innumerable, apparently unsurmountable handicaps not infrequently encountered from the outset, successfully wrest from Mother Nature his fair share of the lucrative, hidden treasures that have, since the glamorous Gold Rush Days of '49, made Nevada County, more than any other in California, deservedly famed the world over.

To narrate in detail the intensely interesting life story of Errol MacBoyle, including his marked achievements in the world of business and industry, and above all, his never-ending benefactions always modestly given without show or ostentation, would require volumes in print. These praiseworthy characteristics, by no means uncommon in the time-honored MacBoyle clan, long have been, and still are, as and when occasion requires, brought into play by the worthy subject of this brief sketch for the commendable purpose of helping promote and enhance county welfare in general, and the health, happiness, prosperity and contentment of the sick, ailing and needy in particular.

Above and beyond the scrupulous carrying out of the commendable principles already noted, the well-being, comfort and mutual harmony exemplified in the whole-hearted, brotherly goodfellowship between himself and his mammoth company's sizable army of satisfied, loyal employees and their respective families, has ever and always been a matter of self evident, personal concern with Mr. MacBoyle.

Suffice to briefly point out for the information and enlightenment of the galaxy of interested, information seeking readers who will peruse these pages at home and beyond, that to Mr. MacBoyle's natural, creative inclinations and desire to not only keep abreast of the times, but, not infrequently well in advance of the times, the following, partial summary of this busy Nevada County standby's daily routine in widely scattered branches of useful endeavor will furnish thinking readers with at least a general working knowledge of his conceded worth to the county of his choice, and all classes of people therein.

As the energetic executive head of the Idaho-Maryland Mines Corporation and various allied interests throughout Nevada County and elsewhere having to do with extensive and ever expanding mining and milling operations, Mr. MacBoyle takes his public and private obligations seriously, to the end that his every undertaking reflects great credit on himself, the country, his business associates and by virtue of the large payrolls involved, helps enrich all classes of the community.

Other carefully planned, well-managed MacBoyle enterprises that have furnished a solid base for far-reaching advertising of immense value to the greater development of Nevada County's innumerable natural resources and tangible advantages, anart altogether from the county's proven, rich, mineralized zones, extend into the realms of general purpose farming, ranching, fruit growing and the breeding and raising of magnificent specimens of fine horseflesh of carious classification, all carried on along the most approved lines formulated by modern science.

Having risen from the ranks of that courageous element of men who intelligently employ both brawn and brain to achiece the goal of their cherished ambition, Errol MacBoyle is first, last and always, no matter what the circumstances, the tried and trusted friend and confidant of the deserving, conscientious wage earner.

This fact is amply attested by the unbroken harmony and good will that have, for so long, happily existed between the Idaho-Maryland Mines Corporation and its loyal employees whose unity and sincerity of purpose combine to keep the ponderous machinery necessary to the smooth operation of all departments of one of Nevada County's major industries, in perpetual motion.

Surely, therefore, the Nevada City Nugget, in common with its great host of readers, including, of course, every right thinking man, woman and child in Nevada and neighboring counties, has the right to regard Errol MacBoyle as a public benefactor.

ALPHA STORES LIMITED WIDELY KNOWN ORGANIZATION

Since the inception of the Alpha Stores Limited in Nevada City and Grass Valley, this responsible and always dependable organization has not only set and maintained a consistent, forward march in the broad field of modern merchandising, but has, as well, through the wise medium of scrupulous, progressive management, grown from comparatively modest beginnings to its present day, far reaching proportions.

As the Alpha Stores gathered momentum while steadily forging ahead as an essential public service organization that correctly anticipated every community need, its farsighted, well disposed executive head and General Manager, Mr. Fred F. Cassidy, was ever and always mindful of his firm's incumbent duty in the safeguarding of a community trust which the people of Nevada County as a whole, and large and small mining companies in particular, had confidently reposed in this, the county's premier and certainly most outstanding, completely stocked merchandising institution.

Under Mr. Cassidy's sagacious direction, the progressive, generous policy wisely inaugurated on the outset, and whole-heartedly practiced throughout the long years of the organization's creditable existence demonstrates, as nothing else could, a conceded truism that individuals and firms of large means and affluence at this writing, owe much of the success attained to the encouragement given, and generous accommodation extended at the hands of the management of Alpha Stores Limited at crucial periods when extended credit and kindred help was sorely needed.

That Mr. Cassidy conducted all departments of his firm's extensive and constantly growing business wisely and well, is evidenced by the fact that with the advent of happier times and conditions, the gratitude of the patriotic people whom his firm had befriended in lean years, has not infrequently been likened to the adage of old having to do with the casting of bread upon promising waters.

In like manner, with confidence in his own capacity as an experienced merchant of vision and understanding, and with unbounded faith in the inherent honesty and sincerity of purpose manifest by his appreciative customers, and equally strong faith in Nevada County's assured bright future, it is pleasing to note that the consistent application of Mr. Cassidy's carefully arranged business principles in his dealings with the deserving and needy, when occasion required, was, as it should be, with the turn of the tide from adversity to prosperity, rewarded many fold.

It is, therefore, a matter worthy of more than passing mention, that 1937 finds the Alpha Stores Limited, not only in a healthy and flourishing condition, but in the fortunate position, commercially, financially and socially, of enjoying in generous measure, the good will, confidence and esteem of all classes of home loving people throughout Nevada and neighboring counties, and the wholehearted co-operation and support of large and small mining companies in particular.

Himself a successful mine operator, we are within the mark in affirming that perhaps no other merchant in the whole of California, or the West for that matter, has more in common with ambitious, mining-minded people from the hopeful, trusting prospector, to the executive heads of great producing properties such as the fine old mines that have made Nevada County famous the world over, than has Fred F. Cassidy.

A public spirited citizen, substantial taxpayer, good neighbor and a conceded expert in the fine art of modern merchandising, as well as mining, it need hardly be said that with Fred F. Cassidy at the helm, the Alpha Stores Ltd., is at present, as heretofore, a boon to every man, woman and child in Nevada County, and strictly on the merit of this financially solid orzanization's appraised worth to local mining enterprises, and the community at large, it has a just claim on the professional parronage and support of all the people.

PLAZA SUPER SERVICE STATION ALWAYS BUSY

The fact that the spacious, newly remodeled premises given over to the conduct of the Plaza Super Service Station occupy a strategic location that has long been regarded as a key position in Nevada City's business life, coupled with the fact that Lionnel and Alton Davies, the active moving spirits of this popular gathering place for motorists, leave no stone unturned in an earnest desire to give patrons the best there is in them, accounts in no small measure for the voluminous business transacted here daily.

Specializing in the dispensing of the prime quality products which have long ago made the Texas Company known and respected by car and truck owners the country over, it will be readily understood and appreciated why Davies Brothers Plaza Super Service Station is a magnet of call for large and small mining companies, home motorists and tourists and others who continuously visit this prosperous county seat of government on business and pleasure.

Always courteous and accommodating, and sincerly considerate of the economic welfare and personal safety of that discerning element of people who deservedly place implicit confidence in their inherent honesty and sincerity of purpose, we are, we think, within the mark in affirming that the great Texas Company has not, in California, or elsewhere, more efficient or conscientious representatives, nor have the people of Nevada City and County more enthusiastic boosters for the things that really matter in climate, scenic beauty, business, industry and health throughout this favored locality, than are Lionnel and Alton Davies.

NEVADA CITY'S LACE HOUSE DISTINCTIVE HOME ENTERPRISE

Patriotic residents of Nevada City and the wide trade area around have long taken pardonable pride in the modern, economic commercial advantages for which this city's distinctive Lace House always has been, and is at present, perhaps more than ever before, justly noted.

The finely stocked and scrupulously managed, attractive establishment referred to is a complete depository for anything and everything of value in prime quality merchandise covering the category of carefully chosen assortments of dry goods; also all manner of skilfully designed and manufactured wearing apparel admirably suited to more particular families and individuals who are wont to appear at their best in the home, as well as in public, private, business and social life.

In that this spacious, finely arranged store is numbered among the oldest and best thought of business houses of the kind in the whole of Nevada County, notwithstanding occasional changes in ownership and management, its present standing as a weighty, tangible, community, economic asset is in all respects worthy of this traditionally famous old city and all classes of discerning people privileged to live here.

The management and well trained staff responsible for the supervision and conduct of Nevada City's Lace House deservedly enjoy the respect and esteem of that well disposed element of our far-sighted citizenry who fully realize and appreciate the priceless worth to this city's stability and commercial progressiveness that merchandise of nationally and internationally known manufacture may be just as advantageously acquired as in any of the country's metropolitan centers.

SAMUEL GOULD, EXPERIENCED, SPECIALTY TRADESMAN

Mining companies, and car and truck owners generally of Nevada County, have, in Mr. Samuel Gould whose modern workship is conveniently located in the Nevada City Garage on Commercial Street, Nevada City, a top and body specialist whose expert knowledge of every phase of this very important work entitles him to the confidence and generous support of all classes of people.

There is absolutely nothing relative to first class fender, top and general body work, including blacksmithing and scientific painting, with which Mr. Gould is not thoroughly familiar, and the fact that he is always busy amply attests the complete satisfaction his fine handiwork has given all classes of people.

Nevada City people as a whole have the right to be grateful that an experienced, conscientious tradesman of Mr. Gould's caliber is always on hand to adequately care for community needs, and on general principles, therefore, it would be short-sighted, indeed, unpatriotic on the part of anyone, to have top or body work of any kind done by less responsible, outside people, so long as Mr. Gould is located here.

HOGE DEVELOPMENT COMPANY WEIGHTY FACTOR IN COUNTY'S MINING PROGRESS

The useful mining activities energetically carried on by the Hoge Development Company, a well-managed, progressive organization, owned, controlled and scrupulously conducted by Messrs Arthur W. Hoge and Arthur Hoge, Jr., father and son, ranks among Nevada County's more important mining enterprises, and as such, merits our best commendation.

No public-spirited, local residents have, during recent years, consistently and unselfishly done more to maintain and sustain for Nevada County an unsullied reputation for fair and honorable dealing with respect to the straight-forward, satisfactory conduct of negotiations between owners of valuable gravel and quartz mining properties, and trusting, mining-minded investment seekers, than have Arthur W. Hoge and son.

Their own extensive operations furnish year-round, profitable employment to a representative number of deserveding family men, the continuous circulation of whose wages through various home channels, helps enrich all classes of people and materially enhances community welfare.

In a word, the Hoge Development Company is a Nevada County industrial factor of such incalculable good to all and sundry, as to justify its tabulation as one of Nevada County's stabilizing, economic factors that has, for a considerable period of time, proven of immense benefit in helping keep this county's legitimate investment opportunities before interested strangers, and at the same time inspire and hold public confidence.

FLOYD DAILEY BUILDS DISTINCTIVE HOMES

The home builder and the home maker in their respective spheres of useful human endeavor, are of such outstanding importance to the welfare of any community, that both deserve united county, state and national acclaim. Confining our remarks to certain Nevada County tradesmen of the first named category, it would be hard, indeed, to over-estimate or over state the conceded worth of Mr. Floyd Dailey to the building trades as represented in Nevada County's twin cities, and the county as a whole.

Mr. Dailey's accredited, practical and technical standing in building trades circles within and without the state of California, coupled with the very high regard in which he is deservedly held by reputable architects, construction engineers and duly appointed building inspectors, entitles him to the favorable consideration and implicit confidence of city, town and county officials, and others, who take just pride in seeing to it that public and private buildings already erected in Nevada County are kept in a proper state of repair, and that proposed new buildings of any and every classification, regardless of the purpose intended, be so designed and constructed as to be in keeping with the spirit of the times and thus reflect merited credit on Nevada County and its people.

In this respect, not only new building construction work, but the remodeling of buildings already in existence, including fine cabinet work and the scientific manufacture and installation of fixtures, entrusted to Mr. Dailey, could not be in safer hands.

Employing only conscientious tradesmen who, like himself, believe in adhering to "Golden Rule" principles, and calculating the estimated cost of all work to be undertaken on a basis that permits only of a legitimate, living profit, it is no wonder Floyd Dailey enjoys a reputation, not only in building trades, but financial and business circles, that is of the very best.

In a word, Mr. Dailey has honestly earned the success, that has come to him, and should in future, as in the past, be generously patronized.

NEW RETAIL LUMBER YARD WELCOME INNOVATION

The recent establishing in Nevada City of a model retail lumber yard, the first unit of its kind to be launched by The Tahoe Sugar Pine Company, is, indeed, a welcome innovation to the progressive industrial and commercial enteprises of the twin cities of Grass Valley and Nevada City, and Nevada County as a whole.

The Tahoe Sugar Pine Company, with head offices in the metropolis of San Francisco and modern manufacturing plants at Graniteville and Emigrant Gap, takes favorable rank with other nationally reputable lumbering concerns whose useful activities extend throughout the length and breadth of the country, and beyond.

Specializing, as it does, in the exporting of prime quality Sugar Pine forward, honorable lines as to inspire pany's extensive logging and manufacturing activities have long combined to constitute one of the most important and altogether commendable, home industrial enterprises carried on in the whole of Northern California.

Since, therefore, honest, legitimate competition should now, as always, be looked upon as a prime factor in the life of trade and commerce, the completely stocked retail yards of The Tahoe Sugar Pine Company now permanently located in Nevada City and conducted under the progressive management of Mr. H. S. Foreman, will henceforth serve as a further, timely advantage that is already noticeable in all departments of locally controlled building trades.

A worthy representative of his widely known and well thought of firm, Mr. Foreman has had many years practical experience in all departments of the lumbering business and being, as he is, well remembered in various localities as a building contractor whose fine handiwork testifies to his capacity in the trade, Mr. Foreman may be depended upon to personally see to it that The Tahoe Sugar Pine Company's patrons, who already look upon the newly opened Nevada City retail yard as a boon to the entire county, will be dealt with along such straight foward, honorable lines as to inspire confidence and hold custom.

For the information and enlightenment of interested readers, the fact cannot be too widely publicized or too strongly stressed that The Tahoe Sugar Pine Company is a Nevada County home industry in the best sense of the term. The firm's long established, modern manufacturing plants are valuable county assets and will henceforth continue, as they have in the past, to furnish profitable, year-round employment to deserving home people whose wages, in turn, are constantly dispersed through various local channels to the material advantage of all classes of Nevada County people.

All things considered, it should suffice to briefly remind this county's patriotic citizenry as a whole, that The Tahoe Sugar Pine Company has a just claim to its fair share of all local business offering.

Betty Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Bennett, spent the week end here. She is attending the Dominican Convent in San Rafael.

WILLIAM FORKNER PROGRESSIVE CITIZEN AND BUSINESS MAN

Mr. William Forkner's numerous, appreciative patrons, trusting friends and acquaintances will not, of course, be surprised to learn, through the columns of the Nevada City Nugget, on this, as on other special occasions, that, in the carefully moulded opinion of those who are in a position to know; Mr. Forkner's clean and creditable record as a responsible, competent building contractor and far-sighted business man is, as it should be, very closely linked with the worthwhile things that have enabled Nevada County expand and grow during the past half century.

Many of the county's more pretentious homes, substantial business blocks, public and private institutions, attractive resorts and fine industrial plants will long stand out as worthy examples of Mr. Forkner's skilled handiwork. Strictly on the merits of his thorough understanding of every phase of the modern builder's art, coupled with his ripe practical and technical knowledge of the construction business in all its ramifications, Mr. Forkner deservedly enjoys the confidence and esteem of his brother contractors in the trade, and his good work is often favorably commented upon by reputable architects, construction engineers and building inspectors of wide repute throughout California and far beyond.

It will undoubtedly come as welcome news to interested readers of this Progress Edition at home and elsewhere, to learn that one of the most pretentious building programs ever seriously considered during the past quarter century in Nevada County, bids fair to become a happy reality in the not far distant future. This movement will follow in the wake of the imposing new County Court House and the modern Post Office Building, that will, 'ere long, grace Nevada County's capitol city.

In the light of the foregoing, it is unnecessary to more than casually remark that a responsible, conscientious and altogether dependable building contractor of the type and caliber of Bill Forkner is justly entitled to, and should have, his fair share of all new public and private work offering, including, of course, the renovating and remodeling of all manner of buildings already in existence but in need of repair and, on occasion, general reconstruction.

A high-minded, patriotic citizen whose public-spirited inclinations can, perhaps, be illustrated in no better way than through pointed reference to the recent sub division, sale and successfull settlement of an ideally located home site tract in the picturesque Cedar Ridge district which is intersected by the well traversed highway connecting Grass Valley with Colfax. Mr. Forkner's contribution to the county's general development and advancement, is certainly outstanding.

This newest of the Twin Cities' more popular sub division tracts is the present, permanent home of Mr. Forkner and his well thought of family. From the model community settlement economically effected by Mr. Forkner, has grown a popular merchandising business and gasoline service station which is ably managed and looked after by Mrs. Forkner and is of immense benefit to the enthusiastic new families who have wisely elected to locate on the Forkner Cedar Ridge tract; also neighborhood residents and the traveling public generally.

In just recognition, therefore, of the appraised worth of, Mr. and Mrs. William Forkner and their correctly reared family, every man, woman and child who has the best interests of Nevada County's assured bright future sincerely at heart, should see to it that unselfish, home loving trades people such as the Forkners, be consistently accorded the fullest possible measure of preferential, community patronage and co-operation throughout the four seasons of each and every year.

Indeed, Mr. and Mrs. William Forkner have already proven themselves weighty factors in helping bring about the greater growth and development of Nevada County's prosperous Twin Cities, and the county as a whole.

NEVADA CITY FEED AND FUEL STORE HANDLES QUALITY PRODUCTS

A feed and fuel specialist in the best sense of the term, Mr. E. A. De Schene, the wide-awake, hustling proprietor of the Nevada City Feed and Fuel Store at 201 Spring street, has certainly proven himself the right man in the right place.

Being, as he is, the exclusive dealer in this community for the well-known Feather River Mills products and possessing, as Mr. De Schene does, a thorough understanding of local community needs and seeing to it that appreciative customers get exactly what they ask for at prices so reasonable as to make for the strictest economy, it is not surprising that Mr De Schene has won the confidence of farmers and others within and without the Twin Cities.

Ably assisted by his capable wife in the conduct of the extensive business built up, Mr. and Mrs. De Schene are numbered among Nevada City's more respected and responsible home loving citizens and business people whose honest and honorable commecial principles, justly entitle them to the preferential consideration and support of all the people.

CLIFF DeBERRY THE HOUSEWIFE'S FRIEND

If Cliff DeBerry is anything, he is so modern in his views and broad gaged in his methods that in the field of 20th Century merchandising his respected name has deservedly become a popular trade synonym in the great majority of homes throughout Nevada County and beyond. Specializing, as he does, in the handling, sale and servicing of such nationally renowned home and institutional, utility appliances and equipment as Servel Electrolux Refrigerators which, from the viewpoint of unsurpassed, year-round service, coupled with unequalled economy to both city and country dwellers, are conceded the peer of recent year, scientific inventions coming under this category.

To this should be added the wide variety of exquisitely attractive and thoroughly satisfying merchandise daily turned out of mammoth plants of the great General Motors Corporation as represented in Frigidaire, and kindrred products.

Maintaining, as he does, finely appointed and well stocked, storage quarters and show rooms in Nevada City and Grass Valley, and keeping in close, continuous contact, not only with appreciative housewives, but discerning business and professional people, and industrial operators of Nevada County, Mr. DeBerry has, through the medium of well systematized, intelligently applied business getting methods, proven himself a valuable friend and conscientious advisor to all classes of home loving Nevada County people.

The fact should not be forgotten that DeBerry's is headquarters in this extensive trade territory for the handling and sale of the dependable Maytag Washer and Ironer, modern mechanical, labor saving devices that have won endless praise in domestic circles everywhere.

Surrounding himself with only competent, experienced assistants of sound and measured judgment, Mr. DeBerry has painstakingly built up a standing in trade circles within and without California's boundaries, and more particularly in local public and private channels, that reflects great credit on his commercial capacity, and above all, speaks volumes for the unquestioned fairness and absolute honesty that characterize every transaction, no matter how large or how small, entered into with the DeBerry organization.

Interested infomation seekers, whether friend or stranger, rich or poor, desirous of investigating at first hand the genuine merits of the wide range of modern appliances carried, are always welcome at DeBerry's, and there is an old and true saying that from the viewpoint of absolute honesty, any trusting child is just as safe in Mr. DeBerry's hands, or those of his responsible staff, as would be a worldly wise, grown person.

ETHEL CRASE BEAUTICIAN OF CAPACITY

In the finely equipped, model Charles Beauty Salon conveniently located at 122½ Broad street and ably presided over by Ethel Crase, the more socially prominent and all-round, particular ladies and young ladies residing in this section of Nevada County, are assured of up-to-the-minute accommodatoin and a brand of skilled service based on common sense, scientific, modernistic principles calculated to insure customers maximum, economic benefits and what is of far greater importance, lasting satisfaction.

A thorough student of every phase of the specialty profession of her choice, beautification methods as constantly practiced in the Charles Beauty Salon are a pronounced credit to Ethel Crase and entitle her to generous community patronage.

HELBACH BROTHERS EXPERIENCED MERCHANDISING SPECIALISTS

Since locating, in 1935, at a strategic point in Hills Flat, Messrs. Gus and Bert Helbach, brothers, under the appropriate trade name of Helbach Motors, have set a pace in the successful conduct of approved modern merchandising that might be profitably emulated by not a few of California's more pretentious concerns.

There are, perhaps, no other accredited sales and service representatives of the great Ford organization who possess a background of more valuable practical and technical experience in the various departments of the automobile manufacturing industry, than do Messrs. Gus and Bert Helbach.

As proof of this assertion, interested readers throughout the wide trade area assigned Helbach Motors by the Ford corporation, will be glad to learn that for no less than 25 consecutive years, Mr. Gus Helbach enjoyed the proud distinction of holding, with marked credit to himself and complete satisfaction to the executive personnel of the Ford Motor Car Company, and Mr. Henry Ford, the respected dean of the world's automobile industry in particular, the responsible supervisory position of Service Manager of the mammoth Ford San Francisco and Richmond plants.

Little wonder, therefore, the management of the Ford Company which is nothing, if not progressive, welcomes the opportunity of retaining the valuable connection that for an unbroken quarter century existed between the company and Mr. Helbach.

Large and small mining companies, including mine and mill workers, professional people and business and industrial operators throughout the length and breadth of Nevada County, are, in turn, duly grateful that practical, conscientious business men of Gus and Bert Helbach's type and caliber have been wisely selected to preside over the Ford agency in this thriving community.

Of no less importance to our mining companies and others whose extensive, light and heavy, gasoline motorized operations, whether in the conduct of industry, business or pleasure, call for the strictest economy, is the further fact that Helbach Motors is headquarters in our county's hustling twin cities for the handling and sale of the nationally renowned Firestone tires and tubes, and kindred quality merchandise and accessories turned out for public consumption by the reputable Firestone organization.

To this should be added the dispensing of all manner of matchless Gilmore Oil Company products, a model, modernized department which, in itself, is a colorful and certainly noteworthy feature of the extensive business transacted by Helbach Motors.

Nowhere else in Northern California or beyond, can a single community of far greater population than ours, boast more attractive or conveniently arranged, spacious, completely fitted up and well staffed, sales and service premises for every conceivable motorist's requirement, than can Helbach Motors right here at the very threshold of Nevada Countys capitol city.

Only experienced, efficient and scrupulously honorable mechanics are employed, a conceded fact which is often favorably commented upon by large and small local firms who, from actual experience, have excellent reason to regard Ford, Firestone and Gilmore products in the light of eminently fair and thoroughly honest exchanges for every dollar expended.

It should be noted too, with duly considered emphasis, that the Helbach Brothers carefully chosen staff of sales and service representatives are, like themselves, actuated with a keen sense of duty of right from wrong. Misstatements or misleading exaggerations of any kind, have no place in the wisely conceived business policy of Helbach Motors.

This commendable fact has deservedly won for the firm, its personnel, and Messrs. Gus and Bert Helbach in particular, a brand of well earned community confidence, patronage and good will that reflects credit, as nothing else could, on their marked capacity to adequately serve, please and satisfy all classes of deserving home people who are numbered among their valued customers.

"Have you anything to say before I pass sentence on you?"

"Yes, your honor, I should like you to have your lunch first."

BRADLEY IS TIME-HONORED RESPECTED NAME IN NEVADA COUNTY

In well informed mining circles when great matters of moment relative to various phases of pioneer and modern development that made never-to-be-forgotten history in Northern California as a whole, and Nevada County in particular, are under discussion, the respected, time-honored name of the late, revered Fred Bradley invariably comes in for creditable mention and merited commendation.

It is only right, therefore, while compiling authenticated facts for the information and enlightenment of interested, out-side home and investment seekers concening the manifold advantages Nevada County has to offer, in mineral and other rich natural resources, to sound a deserved word of praise in recognition of the good work done by many courageous, home loving men and women who have gone before, as well as the great host of pioneers, still hale and hearty, who continue to carry on with undiminished enthusiasm.

In the former category, the late, revered Fred Bradley came to be deservedly looked upon by his friends and neighbors at home and in mining and financial circles everywhere as a noteworthy dean in the calling of his choice, and a right thinking business man whose sound judgment and advice was highly valued by all who knew him.

The innumerable good deeds whole heartedly and modestly done by the late Mr. Bradley during his lifetime, will long endure to his everlasting credit. He was the never-failing friend of struggling prospectors and miners in this county and elsewhere.

Indeed, the deserving individuals and families made up not, only of mining-minded people, but those in various branches of business, industry, agriculture and the professions, enjoying present day comforts and affluence as the integral outgrowth of success made possible by the tangible help cheerfully extended in time of need by the late Fred Bradley, if tabulated, would require columns in print.

The fact that the late Mr. Bradley in his early, ambitious, young manhood, with seeming prophetic vision, wisely chose the famous old Spanish Mine located in the equally famous Washington district in Nevada County as a property of great promise, amply attests the logic of his way in that, and all other subsequent undertakings. Hence the Spanish Mine became the site and center of the late Mr. Bradley's modest, maiden mining activities that were destined, with the passing of time, to expand and grow, not only beyond Nevada County's nationally known boundary lines, but thoughout and beyond the known mineralized areas of this great "Golden State," and northward into Alaskan territory, as well as other far-flung points of the compass that need not be here narrated in detail.

At present, as in the past, the Spanish Mine is numbered among Nevada County's consistent producing quartz properties and its current operation, as heretofore, under Bradley family auspices, continues to furnish steady, profitable employment to a representative staff of appreciative, worthy workers who have just cause to rejoice with the thinking taxpayers, and citizenry generally of Nevada County, that the patriotic active members of this well-known family are no less interested in the welfare of Nevada County's present and future progression, than was their late, beloved father during the 365 days of each and every year that marked his all too brief sojourn among us.

No outstanding captain of industry in this country or elsewhere, worked harder in the interest of his fellow men, than did the late Fred Bradley. While his passing was, and is a serious loss to this county as a whole, and more especially; his host of life long fiends and associates, the indomitable, courageous spirit of the Fred Bradley that was, still lingers as an incentive for great good in the minds and hearts of his former followers, to the happy end that Nevada County people have the right to take pardonable pride in perpetuating the happy memory of a former, high-minded, patriotic, local citizen, who, while making the most of golden opportunities offering, was always self sacrificing and unselfish to a fault in personally seeing to it that deserving men, women and children, irrespective of rank, station or circumstance, were often recipients of generous benefactions that were known only to the principals concerned.

It is the sincere wish and hope, not only of the clear thinking, pioneer residents of Nevada County, but that discerning element of the younger generation as well, that the respected and responsible, surviving members of the late Mr. Bradley's home loving family may long be spared to mingle, in harmony and goodfellowship with their friends and well-wishers in Nevada and neighboring counties, and to enjoy the fruits of useful labors courageously begun by a devoted husband, father and warm-hearted public benefactor.

LONG JOHN'S TAVERN CREDIT TO NEVADA CITY

Fair minded, conscientious business men and women of the noteworthy type and caliber of Mr. John P. Tognarelli, popularly known throughout Northern Califoria as "Long John," and his responsible, enterprising wife, are such a pronounced credit to the commercial life of any community that merited praise must be accorded both in the compilation of this review of Nevada City and County's social and industrial activities.

The spacious, attractive, artistically constructed premises on Broad street, widely know to both friend and stranger under the well established trade name of Long John's Tavern, are, in point of modern, cozy, inviting furnishings and equipment, equal to any of the better class establishments of the kind in this far-famed section of the state. No wonder, therefore, Mr and Mrs. Tognarelli enjoy the confidence and esteem of Nevada City and County's best people, and that their commodious tavern is liberally patronized by representative tourists, and traveling strangers generally, who come here annually on business and pleasure from widely scattered parts of the country.

Only the purest and best of everything in linuors, wines and beer; also soft drinks, are handled, and the tempting, appetizing lunches correctly prepared and daintily served under the personal supervision of Mrs. Tognarelli, are so satisfying to the most particular lady or gentleman, that the unsurpassed catering ability of Mr. and Mrs. Tognarelli should, in the best interests of Nevada City's hospitality, be generously publicized for the information and enlightenment of wide-awake, socially inclined people at home and beyond.

No establishment of the kind in the whole of the far West can boast a finer reputation for approved respectability in the conduct of all departments of business transacted, than can Long John's Tavern right here in Nevada City. Neither is there a more public-spirited, home loving couple domiciled in Nevada County who has done more to help enhance the welfare of all classes of deserving, local people, and otherwise keep Nevada City and County constantly in the public eye, than have Mr. and Mrs. Tognarelli.

It is worthy of special note that Catherine, the promising 13 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tognarelli, enjoys the honored distinction of being among the brightest and most alert of that ambitious element of Nevada City's young grade and high school student body to have merited signal honors. Catherine, commencing with the current term, will pursue her further studies in higher education under the auspices of the far-famed teaching order of the Dominican Sisterhood at San Rafael, California.

Not only is Cathline a pronounced credit to Nevada City and her worthy parents, but she is in all respects an outstanding example of that splendid type of young American womanhood that speaks well for the future of our race and nation.

IRVINE SEAMAN COMPETENT MASTER MECHANIC

For no less than three succeeding generations the time-honored name Seaman has been a respected household word in Nevada City and County. The spacious Seaman Repair Shop centrally located on Clark Street is one of the most historic industrial landmarks of its kind in the whole of Nevada County, and the useful construction and repair work painstakingly carried on on the premises' extensive floor space by the well remembered, late William Seaman, grandfather of the present occupant, and a carriage builder and blacksmith of capacity and understanding, adequately met the community needs of his day.

The same creditable record is equally true with respect to the faithful services and lasting satisfaction rendered all classes of people by the late, revered Alphonso Seaman, hard working father of Irvine Seaman, the present owner and responsible head of the long established Seaman enterprise.

For the purpose of emphasizing Irvine Seaman's practical and technical, modern, mechanical capacity, it is only necessary to briefly point out that not only has he made his present specialty work a life calling, but for many consecutive years he held, with credit to himself and complete satisfaction to thiking men of national repute in the field of modern bus transportation, a responsible position of trust calling for the complete satisfaction to thinking men of workability of the rolling stock of one of the largest and best known stage lines as yet brought into being in Southern California.

In the light of the foregoing it is, we think, worth pointing out for the information of large and small mining operators, and car and truck owners generally, as well as business and professional people permanently established in this section of Nevada County, that Irvine Seaman has wisely elected to re-establish himself in Nevada City, the cradle and home of his happy childhood and young manhood, for the express purpose of unselfishly perpetuating the good name and unsullied reputation that characterized the expert handiwork of his sturdy, capable forebearers for upward of three quarters of a century.

Motor rebuilding, tuning, overhauling and essential repair work of any and every conceivable kind and description, including acetylene welding, entrusted to Irvine Seaman, who is numbered among Nevada County's better known property owners, taxpayers and public-spirited citizens and tradesmen, could not be in safer hands. Neither is there an automotive specialist in the whole of California worthy of more implicit community confidence at the hands of wide-awake, appreciative patrons, than is he.

DOCTOR DAVID H. REEDER EMISSARY OF GOOD CHEER

There is, perhaps, no field of human endeavor that has been so thoroughly plowed and harrowed, searched and researched, than is that of the healing art. It should, therefore, prove of special interest to the thinking readers at home and elsewhere who will seek enlightenment in these pages, not only on matters pertaining to trade and commerce, but avenues leading to the restoration of good health as well, to learn that permanently established in the Powell Apartments conveniently located at Pine and Spring streets in the heart of Nevada City, is the office and laboratory of a highly qualified osteopathic physician in the respected person of Doctor David H. Reeder: where science, intelligently coupled with the forces of nature, has already done much toward dispelling gloom, if not, indeed, despair, from the minds and hearts of afflicted patients hailing from various quarters of Nevada and neighboring counties, and the wide territory around.

Thoroughly versed in all phases of his noble calling, Doctor Reeder brings to bear in everything he does, that admirable brand of professional knowledge, foresight, sympathy and, proven skill that at once marks him as one singularly endowed, both by nature and by training, with the requisite experience to readily alleviate, indeed, completely eradicate much needless suffering so rampant everywhere in the human family.

Doctor Reeder, has, it should be noted, since locating in Nevada City, achieved marked, satisfactory results in the treatmet of arthritis, anemia and kindred chronic conditions. Neither can the fact be too widely publicized or too strongly emphasized respecting the marvelous success that has consistently attended Doctor Reeder's intelligently applied efforts to permanently remove cataracts without either the direct or indirect employment of surgery.

A hard working, conscientious specialist in his chosen field of endeavor, Doctor Reeder has, before and since locating in Nevada City, proven himself to be self sacrificing i an earnest desire to promote and enhance the physical and mental welfare of his trusting patients.

Implicit confidence may always be placed in the sound, ethical advice given by Doctor Reeder. Indeed, treatments administered the thinking patient placing him or herself in the careful hands of this oustanding osteopathic physician, are so painstakingly applied that the inevitable result is the dawn of a brighter and happier day.

Officially known to his professional brethren in the United States and far beyond, as an indefatigable thinker and doer in matters having to do with the well being of the sick and ailing, the following, timely notations are set forth for the benefit of interested readers.

At the annual convention in Chicago of the American Association for Medico-Physical Research in 1936, Doctor Reeder was unanimously elected an honorary life member for a most notable contribution to the science of the healing art. This is now recognized as the Reeder System and is used by many physicians in all schools of medicine in every state of the Union and Canada, as well as South America and European countries. It takes, however, many years for anything new in the treatment of disease to be officially recognized by the Medical profersion.

Through the Reeder System (drugless) there is eliminated from the blood all trace of specific blood poison in a few months. This includes congenital, as well as acquired syphilis, and makes the passing on of the disease to future generatios impossible.

In addition to the D. O., Doctor Reeder holds the much coveted degree of Doctor of Philosophy, as well as medical degrees from two colleges, and has held professorships in two medical colleges.

DAISY BLUE PROPERTY

Twelve men are employed at the Daisy Blue mine west of Nevada City. The shaft is down 200 feet and anothe 25 feet will complete the sump. The station is practically completed at 200 foot depth. Drifting will start both ways on the ledge as soon as the shaft work is done.

STOCKTON HILL MINE

Five men are leasing at the Stockton Hill mine below Grass Valley. Ore is being mined from the 265 foot level and stored for a mill. Plans of the company call for a mill as soon as they get arrangements completed.

DEW DROP INN WELL PATRONIZED RESORT

While reviewing the more popular and better known refreshment and resort establishments which are successfully catering to Nevada County residents, and the traveling public at large, it would be difficult, indeed, to find in the whole of this county a more popular social gathering place where both friend and stranger are dealt with in a courteous manner calculated to promote and enhance harmony and good will among all classes of deserving people, than is the Dew Drop Inn ideally located beyond the city limits of Grass Valley on the Auburn Highway.

Large numbers of Nevada City's more exacting residents who know and appreciate the genuine value of first class catering service, coupled with wisely conceived sociability calculated to make and hold friends, are, and long have been, loud in their praise of the generous treatment and never failing courtesy received at the hands of the resort's responsible proprietor, Mr. W. E. Holcombe, and his efficient, accomodating staff of carefuly chosen assistants.

The Dew Drop Inn numbers its valued patrons among many of the more socially prominent men, women and young people of this nation and beyond. Occupying, as it does, a picturesque location in one of Nevada County's more favored, year-round beauty spots, the spacious, finely arranged premises given over to Dew Drop Inn combine to adequately meet the specific and general requirements of old and young alike.

One of the finest and best maintained swimming pools on the Pacific Slope is provided for the accomodation and enjoyment of particular home people and visiting strangers. Mr. Paul Grigg, a nationally known life guard and expert in the fine art of all manner of aquatic maneuvers is employed by the management for the express purpose of keeping this department of Dew Drop Inn fully abreast of the times, while Mr. Grigg's wife devotes her entire attention to looking after the fine colony of cozy, comfortably furnished, inviting cabins necessary to meet the seasonal requirements of this popular resort's guests.

In that Dew Drop Inn occppies a strategic, geographic position in the very bosom of the far-famed Sierra Nevada scenic fairyland, lovers of the rod and gun, as well as enthusiastic devotees of the great outdoors, never fail to find at Dew Drop Inn the worthwhile things in congenial amusement and pleasurable pastime that make vacation periods and business and pleasure sojourns, not only memorable and satisfying, but from the viewpoint of renewed health and vigor, immensely profitable.

WAGE CLAIMS FILED

Several claims for wages have been filed with the Labor Commission demanding payment of wages which they claim are due for work performed at the Waring property at Remington Hill. The claims have been entered against E. M. Durfee, Geo. Christensen, J. H. Scales and the Bolso de Oro Inc., operators of property which they recently purchased.

The claimants are asking that payment of wages be made for sums alleged to be due for their work during July and August of this year. A hearing before the Labor Commission will be held soon.

MISTLETOE MINE

Machinery for a 50 ton mill has been ordered by Fred Glick of Los Angeles to be installed at the Mistletoe mine, west of Grass Valley. The equipment consists of a 5x5 March mill, Dorr classifier, Kraut flotation units, concentrating tables and rock crusher, the latter for primary grinding. The mine is on a three shift basis. Development is progressing both ways at the 200 foot level in the shaft. The mill will be completed October 1. The mine is being developed by the Sierra Vista Mines Inc. The Mistletoe consists of 100 acres and 80 acres in the adjoining controlled by the company.

SUNFLOWER PROPERTY

John N. Blair, who has had a lease on the Sunflower mine in the Rough and Ready district has done considerable exploratory work. In recent weeks he has unwatered an old 100 foot shaft which was sunk by Dr. Logan, owner, of Sacramento years ago. This ground lies in "pocket" country and he states that one "pocket" of several thousand dollars was opened up some years ago.

Thinking Out Loud

H. M. L.

This is a Business Progress Edition of Nevada City Nugget. It is an advertising issue — advertising the advantages of life in Nevada County, good new and rebuilt schools, an enlarged and modernized County Court House, new City Hall for Nevada City and Grass Valley, new business blocks, new firms, rebuilt highways, all of these things reflecting actual and potential prosperity. For whether Nevada County is always actually prosperous, as it is and has been for some years, the natural resources are here and will be for many generations to come, to make and keep this county prosperous.

Sections devoted exclusively to lumbering and agriculture tend to wear out in time, and indeed many mining districts have also worn out. But vast areas, such as "dust bowl" in the Middle West, have little or no future as a place for homes or agricultural industry. Great sections of Wisconsin, Minnesota and other states in the east, have been exhausted from a timber production standpoint for years to come. And in places in California and the western mining resources have been drawn upon until there is little of value left.

But rain or shine, good years and bad, Nevada County since 1849 has been producing gold. It now produces more than a fourth of all the gold that California yields. Little by little the mines of this county attain depth and with depth is usually revealed more stores of profitable ore. We surmise that when the mines of Nevada City's immediate area are explored to the depths of the North Star and the Empire in Grass Valley, values will be uncovered that will bring profits in mining for long years to come.

Some day, with which our children and our grandchildren need not be concerned, undoubtedly the mines of Nevada County will fail to produce enough gold to afford a profit. And when that time comes we predict that it won't matter much for the reason that this section will then being playing one of the big roles in recreation and sports in the Sierras.

We often hear our mining friends say: "The mineral wealth of Nevada County has not been scratched yet." And we believe that this, in the main, is true. But even more striking is the fact that development of recreational and sports facilities in this section is still in its swaddling clothes. The time can almost be measured when people who now drive automobiles will be flying planes. The day of assembly lines for planes for everybody is near. When it dawns we shall see thousands of people in San Francisco spending their Saturday afternoons in the mountains, and every Sierra community will be struggling desperately to provide adequate landing fields. That is why the completion of Nevada City's airport becomes more important every day.

The last three or four years have witnessed a revival of interest in farming wherever the soil and other conditions make it possible. Errol MacBoyle leads in demonstrating that Nevada County can grow superlatively fine apples. Bartlett pears for many years in both Placer and Nevada counties have won highest awards in the California Fair. The winner for many years in the state fair milk contest, U. S. N. Johnson, maintains his dairy here. With ample water for irrigation it would seem that dairying should rank among the successful industries. Poultry raising has already attained relatively a high rank in egg production. Milk and eggs produced locally fall far short of the local demand.

We believe there are many opportunities for horticulture and live stock breeding. Diversified farms that are planned to supply local demands, should be successful. We have observed that raspberries, and other small fruits grown near-by, are rarely in sufficient supply for local consumers.

This edition then is planned to give all those who desire a voice in the Nugget to tell the world of opportunities which they offer in their respective lines of endeavor, and to call attention to the advantages of living in Nevada County.

AN INTERESTED OBSERVER

COUNTY INVITES HOME BUILDERS, INVESTORS

seekers, as well as farmers, ranchers, fruit growers and poultry and dairying specialists of vision and understanding, can make no mistake by investigating at first hand what money judiciously expended for large or small tracts of well located property coming within the classification already outlined, backed by an inclination to work hard and a dogged determination to succeed, (and to all such far-sighted, industrious strangers, Nevada County extends a cordial invitation) will return on any given cash outlay, whether large or small.

FARM AND HOMESITES

Nevada County can boast some of the best farm and ranch holdings in the whole of Northern California. These cover the entire range of practical agricultural, horticulaural endeavor carried on here, including well kept and progressively managed general purpose farms; also fine orchards whereon are produced a wide variety of large and small fruits of such excellent quality and flavor as to make this an industry that is rapidly expanding, and of ever increasing commercial importance.

While in less pretentious proportions with respect to suitability of area, etc., the same may truly be said of the potential advantages certain localities of Nevada County have to offer experienced truck gardeners versed in intensive field and garden culture by reason of the dependable, year-round market for everything produced.

Neither should the salient fact be overlooked that poultry specialists who would secure a foothold in Nevada County where conditions throughout the year are conducive to both progress and profit, will find, as have other enterprising poultry farmers, breeders and fanciers, ample scope to make the most of opportunities that are not surpassed elsewhere on the Pacific Coast.

Modern dairying, too, as carried on in Nevada County, although as yet comparatively small in point of the gross number of animals cared for, and seasonal production handled, has come to be looked upon here, as elsewhere, as an industry of major importance.

Serving the daily needs of the discerning citizenry of Nevada City, Grass Valley and the wide industrial area around, are to be found a representative number of high-minded, conscientious dairymen, some of national and international repute, and all the fortunate possessors of well bred, high producing, vigorous cows whose prime quality, rich milk, cream and other dairy products help materially to maintain and enhance the health and happiness of these mountain communities.

These basic industries which, separately and collectively, have, since time immemorial, formed the backbone of every country under the sun, coupled with the fact that land prices in Nevada County are generally low, and that taxes are most reasonable, are serving as weighty factors in attracting new blood and new capital to what is still, as already pointed out, a comparatively virgin field.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

As the prosperous and progressive County Seat of Nevada County, Nevada City, as also her sister city, Grass Valley, including, of course, the county's long established commercial easten outpost, Truckee, and other smaller communities, extend to friend and stranger alike, educational, recreational and social advantages that rank high in the land.

These thriving centers have a well settled and well developed territory to draw from. Each community can boast fine business blocks, ware-houses, modern manufacturies, world famous productive mines, and public and private institutions which collectively, furnish profitable employment to local residents, and in various other ways, help to enrich all citizens of the community.

In a word, Nevada City, Grass Valley and Truckee, as well as the smaller communities of San Juan, Washington, Graniteville and other settlements, make up a picture so alluring in relation to this county's healthful climate and diversification of valuable natural resources, that it would be hard, indeed, to say where discerning home and investment seekers of vision and understanding, could equal the opportunities Nevada County holds out, not only to the rich, but the deserving, ambitious individual and family of modest means as well.

SCENIC BEAUTY UNSURPASSED

Well maintained highways, cross roads and branch trails radiate from Nevada County's capitol and sister cities to fairylike retreats of mountain, valley and enchanting lake resorts which in point of scenic grandeur and awe-inspiring loveliness, challenge comparison with any of the world's more famous outdoor attractions.

Consider the thrill of occupying, by day, week, month or seasonal tenancy, or better still, on an outright ownership basis, a home, large or small, among hills that are covered with stately giants of the unspoiled Tahoe National Forest in a county of wonders where one may choose a homesite altitude ranging from 1000 to 7000 feet above sea level, and a fair idea may be gathered of a setting that is, in truth one of the rarest and brightest jewels in the crown of our glorious statehood.

In this respect, not only lovers of the rod and gun, but health seekers, research enthusiasts, explorers and others residing beyond our local boundaries, who would improve both body and mind amid delightful scenes and surroundings, will, when considering travel away from home, find it both expedient and profitable to assign Nevada County as a whole, and her quaint, yet modern twin cities in particular, a leading place on any wisely considered itinerary.

MANIFOLD ACTIVITIES REVIEWED

It will be noted that in this issue of the Nevada City Nugget, considerable space is devoted to a review of the manifold activities of Nevada City and her neighboring, hustling communities having to do with industry, business, the professions and lines of occupation not embraced in either of these broad categories.

This summarization ranges from the activities of Public Utilities Corporations and the operations of large and small industrial enterprises, to concerns of lesser magnitude, but each, in its way, fulfilling its functions in the complicated machinery of modern life.

COMPENDIUM OF USEFUL INFORMATION

Nevada County's educational advantages, both public and private, are not only on a par, but well in advance of most other counties of equal population in this and neighboring states. Churches of all leading denominations adequately meet the spiritual and kindred essential requirements of a well disposed, home loving, grateful people who, with true Christian chivalry and determined sincerity of purpose, value their allegiance to God and country above all else.

The same is true with respect to the worthy part loyally played in public and private life by time-honored fraternal organizations, service and social clubs, and private, civic and county organizations, calculated to maintain community welfare at a stadard commensurate with the high ideals of a people whose rich heritage in character have, for almost an unbroken century of work and play, contributed a luster to California time can never obliterate.

Outstanding among the public and private structural undertakings that have marked Nevada County's current year progress in a better housing plan, should be mentioned a new County Court House which in point of architectural beauty of design, spacious interior arrangements and imposing exterior and interior scheme of arresting, decorative illumination, is so far in advance of the times that it will serve and satisfy every conceivable county judicial and business requirement for generations hence.

In fine, this review is a compendium of useful information about the twin cities and the county as a whole, that will repay study by anyone interested in the doings of his fellow men. It will tend to make the reader acquainted with his neighbors, some of whom he may know, and other of whow he has not even heard, or perhaps has heard of, but does not know in an intimate sense.

In deference, therefore, to the wisdom shown by the duly elected executive heads and carefully chosen staffs as represented in the responsible and respected governing forces charged with the business administration and the maintenance of law and order in Nevada County's cities, towns and hamlets, it is only right that merited commendation be extended in a special manner to that warm-hearted element of our business, industrial and professional citizenry whose generosity has made the publication of this Progress Edition possible.

Accordingly, all should take the little time necessary to carefully scan a wide range of descriptive news items that appear elsewhere in these pages as paid advertising matter, relative to innumerable branches of essential, useful endeavor and kindred happenings of moment in a district where worthy new settlers, and reputable strangers in quest of change of scene and surroundings, are always welcome.

MABEN DAIRY MODEL OF SANITATION

Approved, modern dairying procedure, as scrupulously practiced by Mr. James Maben and his hard working, enterprising family in the conduct of their finely equipped Maben Dairy, represents a human health asset to all classes of home loving people in Nevada City and Grass Valley, and the wide districts around, that certainly entitles Mr. Maben to the respect, confidence and support of all who know him.

A casual inspection of the carefully selected herd of well bred, contented, high producing cows conscientiously looked after by Mr. Maben and his hard working sons, speaks well for the painstaking methohds always employed by this responsible family in not only maintaining a model dairy herd in the pink of condition, but in keeping their ideally located dairy farm and modern buildings thereon, in such a commendable state of faultless sanitation, as to insure the consuming public that nowhere in California, or neighboring states, is it possible to obtain finer, dependable delivery service or fresher, purer or more wholesome supplies of rich milk and cream, and kindred dairy products for the family table, than are those provided by the Maben Dairy right here in Nevada County.

Nevada City residents as a whole have just reason to be truly grateful for the manifold benefits Maben Dairy service and products insure both rich and poor from the viewpoint of essential economy, and more particularly, the satisfaction in knowing that Mr. James Maben and the members of his family as a whole, are so sincerely interested in the health, happiness and welfare of patrons, that no stone is left unturned in an earnest endeavor to promote and maintain at the highest possible standard, the good name and unsullied reputation the Maben Dairy deservedly enjoys.

As a conceded authority on high-grade dairy animals, James Maben has long enjoyed an enviable reputation throughout the whole of the Northwest and Western Canada, as well as this section of the Pacific Coast. He is a valued official of our "Golden State's" Farm Bureau and as such, has rendered the people of Nevada County excellent service in spurring the organization to a keen sense of duty and consequent action relative to essential community needs, and the practical application of wisely conceived, remedial methods calculated to benefit all and sundry.

A representative number of prime conditioned hogs which, in point of careful breeding, take high rank with the best of the kind in the country as officially vouched for by the Swanson Packing Company, represents a further noteworthy feature of Maben thrift and progression that cannot be too highly spoken of.

Indeed, James Maben, who, in conjunction with seasonal hired help, is ably assisted by his capable wife and enterprising, ambitious sons, is an outstanding factor for such marked good in the dairying, livestock and agricultural development of Nevada Couty, as to entitle him, and the members of his hard working family, to the confidence and co-operation of all classes of patriotic, home people.

HAL D. DRAPER, Ph. D. OUTSTANDING CHEMIST AND ASSAYER

Since locating in Nevada City upward of two years ago Mr. Hal D. Draper has, in his honored professional capacity as assayer aod consulting chemist, proven a most valuable asset, not only to the mining-minded, discerning people actively engaged in major and minor operations throughout the length and breadth of Nevada County, but other wide awake pospectors and operators in widely scattered sections of California and neighboring states who have direct or indirect knowledge of Mr. Draper's conceded professional competency in his particular specialty field of useful endeavor.

For a long period of consecutive years Mr. Draper was a valued member of the faculty of the Fresno State College where he gave an excellent account of his stewardship in the Chemistry and Physics departments. Accordingly, Mr. Draper brought with him to this, his wisely chosen field for permanent settlement and professional practice, a solid background of well earned practical and technical experience that has reflected to his credit and the popularity of his completely fitted up office and laboratory conveniently situated at Commercial and Main streets in the heart of Nevada City.

A respected family man of sterling qualities and public-spirited to a fault in his sincere desire to help enhance the best interests, not only of major and minor corporations in this favored territory and elsewhere, but mining-minded people without exception, it has been truly said that patrons entrusting work of any kind to Mr. Draper, whether friend or stranger, are in absolutely safe hands.

Hence the underlying reasons for Hal D. Draper's notable success since identifying himself with Nevada County's world famous mining activities are directly traceable: first, to his professional skill, dependability and absolute reliability; second, by virture of his inherent desire to properly safeguard, by every legitimate means, the unsullied reputation he enjoys in well informed mining circles here and elsewhere. No wonder Hal D. Draper deserves to succeed.

JONES MEMORIAL HOSPITAL TIME-HONORED INSTITUTION

The widely known Jones Memorial Hospital ideally located in the prosperous city of Grass Valley is no less a correctly appointed, permanent, useful, indeed, essential fixture of Nevada Couty, than are the county's courts, churches, schools, industrial plants and public and private institutions generally. In this respect the discerning citizenry of Nevada County, as well as the internationally reputable mining corporations whose sizable army of trusting employees is usefully occupied in the greater development of this immensely rich field, have reason to be justly proud of the splendid professional services and wisely conceived, modern conveniences and accommodation made possible to all and sundry by Doctor Carl P. Jones, the distinguished and respected, surviving member of a family of high-minded, skilled physicians comprising Doctor Jones' late father and two brothers.

Truly the Jones Memorial Hospital is not only an age-old, Grass Valley landmark of approved institutional design and constructive solidarity of former years, but it is, as well, a fitting, tangible reminder of the innumerable good deeds accomplished and self sacrificing endeavor painstakingly put forth by the esteemed Jones practitioners who have gone before, with special reference, of course, to the institution's present, responsible moving spirit in the estimable person of Doctor Carl P. Jones.

A tried and trusted friend in the best sense of the term, of every man, woman and child in Nevada County, pages in print would be required to even partially set forth a general outline of the timely benevolence almost continuously extended by Doctor Jones to certain elements of Nevada County's needy, deserving citizenry, irrespective of rank, station or circumstance.

Large and small mining companies, and mine and mill workers alike are, and always have been, loud in their praise of the skilled surgical services rendered, and considerate, sympathetic after care and bodily comforts afforded both friend and stranger, whether rich or poor, who, on occasion find the excellent brand of hospitalization available at the finely arranged and completely fitted up Jones institution the acme of everything that makes for the early restoration of normal health and happiness.

Nowhere in California or neighboring states could one find a better trained or more highly efficient staff of kindly disposed, graduate nurses and attendants, than is the carefully selected personnel maintained by Doctor Carl P. Jones. A thinker and doer who takes his professsional duties seriously, and is ever and always keenly interested in helping maintain the physical and mental condition of his fellow men at a very high standard, Doctor Jones' contribution to medical science and the trusting laity as well, of the widely heralded Jones-Paynter Splint is but one of many worthwhile deeds in humanitarian uplift which have deservedly endeared this worthy native son of Nevada County, not only to his professional brethren within and without California, but more particularly, to the hard-working men, women and young people who have come to look upon Doctor Jones as a veritable Fairy Godfather when occasion demands.

While always busy in the conscientious practice of his honored profession, Doctor Jones never has been, and is not at present, too busy to interest himself, in common with the county's far-sighted men-of-affairs and local taxpayers as a whole, in salient things calculated to maintain and enhance every worthy movement in any way related to the rejuvination of the county's fine old, large producing mines, as well as the opening up of likely new, virgin quartz and gravel properties, and the greater settlement and development of Nevada County's far-famed, scenic, recreational and health resorts, as well as the ideal year-round home site advantages picturesque Nevada County holds out to intending new settlers.

A large taxpayer and a high-minded public benefactor and good neighbor, Doctor Jones is nothing, if not progressive. Throughout his long and creditable career he has left no stone unturned in an earnest endeavor to keep fully abreast of the times, not only in the various departments of his specialty professional endeavor, but in the conduct of his manifold, additional activities as well.

To this desirable end, interested readers at home and elsewhere will be glad to learn that there is at present in the offing; thanks again to Doctor Jones' clear vision and sound thinking, as also Mr. Errol MacBoyle, the energetic moving spirit of the Idaho-Maryland Mines Corporation, who has whole-heartedly assumed the responsibility of financing, construction and equipment; a pretentious new hospital which in point of architectural beauty of design, carefully planned appointments and spacious, modernistic arrangement throughout, will, when actually brought into being in the not far distant future, compare favorably with any of the better hospitals of the kind in the land.

With unbounded faith in Nevada County's assured bright future, and due regard for the steady influx of discerning new settlers who will seek permanent domicile in this invigorating mountain area, not to mention the continuous greater business and industrial development that will naturally follow in the wake of every well ordered, forward movement, the proposed new hospital already referred to will undoubtedly prove an added factor for incalculable good in the lives of the present generation, and the generations to follow ,and will, at the same time, keep fresh in the memory of all who enter the institution's portals, the appraised worth of the respected members of the Jones family, past and present, in their never-ending desire to help promote the best interests of Nevada County and its people.

PICTURESQUE LAKE OLYMPIA ENCHANTING MOUNTAIN RESORT

Apart altogether from Nevada County's large producing, fabulously rich gravel and quartz mines, the immense wealth of which has helped tthis country expand and grow to its present pretentious proportions, this county's matchless scenic grandeur has deservedly been heralded in song and story for the past hundred years as one of the most outstanding and awe-inspiring, natural resort gems that could possibly appeal to lovers of the great outdoors.

Of these, perhaps the most centrally located and easily accessible is our own lovely Lake Olympia ideally situated almost midway between Nevada City and Grass Valley. Nestling, as it does, in the very bosom of the far-famed Sierra Nevada Mountains, Lake Olympia is deservedly looked upon as a popular, year round gathering place for all classes of people who duly apyreciate the advantages, to both body and mind, of needed seasonal diversion covering the broad fields of boating, swimming, fishing, mountain climbing and general, health insuring, amusement pastime. All of these, and kindred other forms of invigorating exercise, have their joyous bebinning and happy end at, and such as to adequately meet the requirements of the more particular social eltments in quest of outdoor recreation. A fine dance pavilion is located in the center of the lake and the music here provided is on a par with the better orchestras of the kind elsewhere in the country. Indeed, nothing is lacking at Lake Olympia that a really attractive, nationally sought mountain resort should have in the commendable things that inaround, Lake Olympia.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Thurston, the genial proprietors and responsible supervisors of a finely laid out park comprising more than fourteen acres, interspersed with stately, tall pine groves, shrubs, flowers ad romantic, secluded tails, all of which are mirrored and reflected in the shimmering, placid waters of beautiful Lake Olympia and which combine to make a veritable, fairy playground of rare charm and beauty, have shown marked foresikht in successfully bringing this model resort into being.

A representative colony of cozy, comfortable cabins is provided for the accomodation and convenience of pleasure loving, appreciative guests, while the catering facilities and services here maintained are sure complete satisfaction to church, school and fraternal picnic organizations.

All things considered, Mr. and Mrs. Thurston cannot be too highly spoken of or too generously patronized in consideration of the worthy part they have consistently played during the past eleven years, and are at present faithfully playing, in an earnest endeavor to maintain and enhance Nevada County's unsullied good name and reputation as one of the brightest, most progressive and prosperous sections of the great, glorious, golden empire so appropriately named and known the world over as California.

AN ACTIVE, EFFICIENT CREDIT ASSOCIATION VALUABLE COMMUNITY ASSET

In these days of keen competition in practically all lines of business, industrial and professional endeavor, only concerns and individuals farsighted enough to conduct their respective affairs along approved, modern, systematic lines can hope to succeed. Since, therefore, this is essentially a credit age as viewed in the light of the nation's ever increasing annual turnover in all manner of household essentials, utility merchandise, supplies, accessories, etc., there is much to be said in favor of corretly organized and scrupulously managed credit organizations, the basic, operating principles of which are intended to enhance community welfare.

It follows, therefore, that those who would keep abreast of the times must, through the medium of minimizing overhead, yet maintaining necessary efficiency, practice the strictest eonomy on all sides. Statistics resultant from a nation-wide survey of ecconomic conditions clearly show in unmistakable exactitude that the innumerable disasters of all too common occurrence in practically every conceivable line of human endeavor where credit is involved, emanate, not from the repudiation by deserving, credit-seeking customers of sizeable accounts, but rather from the accumulation of continuous leakage in what, on first sight, appeared trivial matters, but when computed in the aggregate, bring to many trusting business and professional people cause for alarming concern, if not, indeed, ruin.

A well established and correctly systematized remedy especially devised to eliminate completely such unfortunate happenings is already in vogue in practically every state and county thereof, in the nation. In this respect the twin cities of Grass Valley and Nevada City, and the county as a whole, have in the Retailers' Credit Association located at 260 South Auburn Street, Grass Valley, a scrupulously conducted organization with state and national affiliation of a kind that insures conceded stability, financial security and wisely planned action producing satisfactory results to a large and constantly growing clientele.

As the name implies, this reputable, home controlled enterprise is, in truth and in fact, a fund of information covering all salient phases of matters directly or indirectly related to current credit, the genuine value of which cannot be over-estimated.

The Retailers' Credit Association was established in Grass Valley nine years ago, not to function for any favored individual or class, but for the people as a whole throughout the twin cities and Nevada County, who would employ a responsible, thorough going organization whose specialty it is to obtain, keep on file and impart valuable ,authenticated information respecting credit, as and when required, and to effect collections and adjustments along such economic lines as to prove profitable and satisfactory to all concerned.

This well thought of association which is ably presided over by Mr. D. F. Powell is non-profit sharing and must not be confounded with collection agencies operating for a profit and, in many cases, using questionable methods to secure the same. The aim of this organization is to bring debtor and creditor together for their mutual benefit—using every honest effort to adjust their differences and thus save additional unnecessary expense to both parties.

The modern methods employed by this association should not in any sense be linked up with the old time, slip-shod, hap-hazard procedure, followed by many collection agencies, attorneys and others with whom the handling of such matters is too often a side line given consideration only when time and opportunity afford.

It should, therefore, hardly be necessary to more than again briefly emphasize the already widely known fact that any and all business entrusted to the Retailers' Credit Association of Grass Valley will be in absolutely safe hands.

THE STYLE SHOP CREDIT TO LIBBIE SHIELDS

Throughout the generations that have come and gone since the early, historic, "Gold Rush Days," Nevada County people as a whole, have kept consistent pace with most of the innovations of a constantly changing, busy world. This always has been, and still is, particularly true with respect to that thinking element of our better dressed ladies and young ladies who understand and appreciate the manifold advantages of appearing at one's best always, whether in the home, in the office, the church, school, public thoroughfare or social-gathering places where good taste born of good breeding, is self evident at a glance.

In this connection it is worthy of special note that the Style Shop, owned and personally supervised by Mrs. Libbie Shields, a well thought of, cultured native daughter of Nevada City, enables patriotic, well disposed feminene residents, irrespective of age, rank or occupation, to appear in public or private places as becomingly and economically adorned from head to foot with merchandise provided by Mrs. Shields, as though the same choice articles of quality apparel had been contracted for in any of the larger metropolitan cities of the country.

Anything and everything of value from the most delicate lingerie to ready to wear, correctly designed dresses, suits and kindred apparel, including fine millinery, is handled and dispensed by Mrs. Shields in her well stocked Style Shop in a manner that speaks well for Mrs. Shields' noteworthy capacity to efficiently serve and please her discerning customers, and at the same time extend that maximum measure of honest value with every purhase, that never fails to insure lasting satisfaction.

NEVADA COUNTY LUMBER COMPANY LONG ESTABLISHED CONCERN

Lumbering in its many and varied phases at present, as in the historic past that marked the early development of this state and nation, always has been, and will, of course, continue to be, one of the country's great major industries. In this connection it is a matter of more than passing moment that the Nevada County Lumber Company enjoys the proud distinction of being the one and only firm of its kind in California that has, since the time of its inception long ago, up to the moment of writing, retained its original office, yards and general distributing location as the chief site and center of its manifold, useful activities.

Indeed, the Nevada County Lumber Company is, and always has been, truly a valuable county commercial asset in the best sense of the term. This responsible firm has supplied rough and dressed lumber of various classification, as well as builders' hardware, paints, oils, varnishes, roofing materials and building supplies generally, for the more representative of our industial plants, and public and private structures, as well as the modest homes of worthy workers, for generations past.

That this continuous march of progress goes steadily on is amply attested by the following, specific facts relative to materials supplied by the Nevada County Lumber Company during the past few yeas. The nationally known building contracting firm of Lindgren and Swinerton, upon being awarded the contract for the extensive remodeling and general reconstruction of Nevada County's now pretentious, new Court House, obtained its supplies from the Nevada County Lumber Company. The same is equally true of the materials used by Mr. Roland Meyer in the execution of contracts awarded for the construction of Nevada City's model grammar school and gymnasium, and in the same proportionate measure by Mr. W. C. Forkner who was the responsible contractor in charge of the fine new home on Nevada Street, this city, built especially for Mrs. Sheldon.

Mr. Ralph H. Cochrane, one of Northern California's better known contractors, likewise arranged for the purchase of all needed supplies from the Nevada County Lumber Company in connection with the building of the model Landis Clinic in Grass Valley, and the Rosebar school at Smartsville.

While the above are but a few of the sizable orders recently placed with the Nevada County Lumber Company for the erection of really first class public and private buildings, it should be duly noted for the information of interested readers that the company makes a specialty of scrupulously catering to the specific and general needs of discerning householders, home builders and the thrifty, industrious man who, for obvious reasons, prefers to do his own work.

A modern plan service department is maintained for the express purpose of facilitating along the most approved lines construction matters pertaining to all manner of proposed new work or alterations.

Indeed, the Nevada County Lumber Company's unsullied reputation for fair and honorable dealing with all classes of deserving people, whether friend or stranger, is no less favorably known in well informed home circles than is the largeness of heart and genial personality of Nevada City's own "Buck" Williams who, as a tried and trusted Nevada County Lumber Company employee, has already rounded out no less than forty consecutive years of useful service with this time-honored, dependable company and its predecessors.

MR. AND MRS. E. J. HAVERSTOCK HAVE MANY FRIENDS

For the past fifteen consecutive years Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Haverstock have, in the conduct of their comfortably furnished, well managed hotel, served the people of Washington, as well as the large numbers of mining-minded people from various quarters of the globe who are constantly attracted to this famous old mining camp, which is one of the real historic spots of Nevada County's early mining activities, in a manner worthy of merited commendation.

Present indications for a healthy revival of new work in the Washington district are more promising than for many years past. It should, therefore, prove a point of special interest to individuals and concerns now planning pretentious development undertakings on some of Washington's famous old mines, as well as the proposed opening up of new gravel and quartz preperties, to know that the excellent hotel accomodation provided by Mr. and Mrs. Haverstock compares favorably with really good accommodation of similar classification elsewhere in Northern California.

A high-minded, public-spirited citizen sincerely interested in the welfare of Nevada County and its people, of the present respected and responsible aspirants to the vacancy of District Supervisor, it is the consensus of opinion in well informed public and private circles that by virtue of his conceded business capacity good sense and sound judgment, Mr. Haverstock is the logical man for the place.

W. S. WILLIAMSON MOTORISTS FRIEND

Justly proud of having first seen the light of day in Nevada County, the young subject of this sketch in the person of Mr. W. S. Williamson, whose modern service garage is one of the most popular and best patronized in the whole of his native county, is a capable automobile mechanic and alert service station operator whose faithful and efficient services cheerfully rendered all classes of home people, and strangers as well, entitle him to be looked upon in the scheme of Nevada City's commercial and industial life as an economic asset of major importance.

Mining companies, government representatives and the people as a whole, who have had dealings with Mr. Williamson, have reason to regard him as the soul of honor in his every transaction and a skilled, conscientious mechanic whose thorough knowledge of the intricate mechanism of all makes of automobiles and trucks, insures any work entrusted to his care of that brand of repair and adjustment that never fails to guarantee continued smooth transportation operation and consequent lasting satisfaction.

Dispensing exclusively, as Mr. Williamson does, the superior products of the nationally reputable Associated Oil Company, it is no wonder his well managed garage and service station is deservedly noted as a popular headquarters in this community with all who would practice the strictest economy in minimizing overhead expense, and at the same time obtain the very best in skilled, conscientious workmanship, high proof gasoline, fine lubrication products and other essential, quality car and truck accessories.

Rugby teams of Australia, New Zealand, Japan and Canada will be asked to meet American teams at San Francisco's 1139 World's Fair.

W. A. DIMICK WOOD WORKER OF DISTINCTION

A skilled, widely known and respected craftsman who has for the past half century, successfully plied his specialty trade as a general wood worker and fine cabinet maker along such creditable, praiseworthy lines as to have acquired for him a reputation in business, private and government circles that speaks far louder in his favor than any words of ours, it is hardly necessary to here frankly state that Mr. W. A. Dimick, the responsible proprietor of Auburn Way Wood Working Plant located adjacent to the city of Grass Valley on the Auburn Highway, is perhaps one of the most valuable of Nevada County's building trade assets.

Mr. Dimick's long, useful and we might add, creditable career, during the territorial days of the Middle West, and later on the Pacific Coast, is so completely filled with important matters on happenings of past and present undertakings of prime importance to those interested in his own, and all other branches of the building trades, that some day in the near future. It is the purpose of this writer to give Mr. Dimick's all absorbing story to an information seeking reading public.

For the present the purpose intended will be adequately served by pointing out that the Auburn Way Wood Working Plant, although by no means pretentious in point of outward show, can boast the carefully selected things in modern mechanical squipment installed, necessary to take care of practically every essential community need.

Here one finds a home-owned, well-managed manufactury where sash, doors and window frames are scientifically turned out along lines that compare favorably with any other plant of the kind in Northern California. Fine cabinet work is another important phase of the industry carried on here, and it should be especially noted by interested readers that with Mr. W. A. Dimick, wood turning and general wood working is an ancient and modern fine art of which he is a competent master.

The fact that Mr. Dimick supplied a great deal of specialty manufactured materials for use in Nevada County's widely heralded, imposing, new Court House, speaks volumes for the fine business standing he enjoys with reputable architects, construction engineers, and above all, the duly elected county officials and citizenry as a whole of Nevada County. Indeed, Auburn Way Wood Working Plant products are, strictly on the merits of excellent quality of materials used, and distinctive brand of handiwork in manufacture, constantly being shipped to widely scattered sections of California and beyond.

Now that there is a nation wide building boom in the immediate offing that will find its way throughout the whole of Nevada County, as elsewhere, we have no hesitancy in predicting for the Auburn Way Wood Working Plant's conscientious proprietor, Mr. W. A. Dimick, a bright and prosperous future, and to this happy end we cheerfully bespeak for Mr. Dimick, strictly on the merit of his industrial worth to this community, the preferential support of building contractors and retail dealers in first class builders' supplies, as well as patriotic local property owners without exception.

ALFRED V. SAUVEE ENTERPRISING BUSINESS MAN

Mr. Alfred V. Sauvee is a respected native son of Nevada County and a worthy offspring of the late, time-honored Victor Sauvee who, in the early days of this city and county's momentous development, had the distinction of playing a leading part in the birth and growth of what in later years, and at present, is popularly known under the trade name of the Union Ice Company, an institution of such wide present day ramifications that the firm functions throughout the length and breadth of California and neighboring states.

Since, therefore, this nationally known concern had its origin in Nevada City, no general review of the useful activities successfully carried on here in this year of 1937 could be considered complete were not the splendid, up-to-date Union Ice Delivery and Distributing enterprise, as conducted and maintained by Mr. Sauvee, accorded creditable mention.

Always busy througout the four seasons of the year, and more especially during the summer vacation and recreational months, supplying families, business houses, public and private institutions and resorts with adequate quantities of pure, crystal ice as and when needed, coupled with the distribution to the trade of Acme Beer, Coca Cola, and Big Chief Soda Water, Mr. Sauvee and his courteous staff of assistants fill such a useful and altogethher essential place in the well being of our community life that the spacious premises given over to these various services deserve to be looked upon as among Nevada City's more valuable commercial assets.

A choice assortment of scientifically constructed, modern ice refrigerators is carried in stock for the convenience and accomodation of those who, while obtaining the best possible value for the money, would, at the same time practice the strictest economy in the prolonged conservation of ice purchased, and the satisfactory preservation in a fresh, sweet and sanitary condition, of all manner of pure food table supplies.

This very commendable, general service conducted by a responsible, industrious local business man and lifelong citizen of the community who has the best interests of all classes of deserving people at heart, is of such vital importance to the health, happiness and contentment of all and sundry as to entitle Mr. Sauvee to our best commendation for the excellent work he is carrying on so faithfully and well, notwithstanding, on occasion, the adverse condition of the times.

NEW ROLLER SKATING RINK POPULAR, HEALTHY AMUSEMENT

Messrs. Fred Baker and Joe Cilione, two well thought of, enterprising, young business men, deserve, and should have, the whole-hearted co-operation and support of every man, woman and child in Nevada City and vicinity who realize and properly appreciate the immense benefit to human health a really good roller skating rink affords the pleasure loving people of any community.

Surely the above named, public-spirited young business men are to be complimented for having seized the golden opportunity of transforming Nevada City's historic Armory Hall into a spacious, fully modern Roller Skating Rink where appreciative people of every rank and station, may, at a trivial cost, take an active part in an approved form of highly recommended bodily exercise, and at the same time encourage a wisely conceived diversion from worldly cares and anxieties, which if taken seriously and dwelt upon, are highly detrimental to both body and mind.

In their sincere desire to keep abreast of the times and provide their enthusiastic patrons with unsurpassed value for the money. Messrs. Baker and Cilione have invested in up to date equipment comparable with that installed in any of the better known roller skating rinks in the country's metropolitan cities.

Adequate supplies of cold, delicious soft drinks and pure, fresh, wholesome candies are kept and dispensed at little more than cost for the convenience and accomodation of patrons. Above all, it should be here stated with emphasis and duly noted and appreciated by Nugget readers, that Messrs. Baker and Cilione so conduct the innocent pastime enthusiastically carried on in their finely ventilated, inviting premises, in a manner calculated to scrupulously safeguard their own good name and reputations, and the welfare and moral integrity of Nevada City's growing boys and girls. Such a commendable enterprise as this, cannot be too generously spoken of or too liberally patronized.

GEORGE C. SELLON ARCHITECT OF NOTE

In point of substantial construction, architectural beauty of design and interior and exterior, modernistic, convenient arrangement, Nevada County's newly reconstructed and remodeled Court House will stand, for generations hence, as tangible testimony to the conceded skill and professional competency of the widely known architect in charge in the respected person of Mr. George C. Sellon of Sacramento. This imposing, county government building is in all respects a pronounced credit to the far-sighted taxpayers whose progressive inclinations have made the undertaking possible.

All things considered, in just recognition of the excellent services cheerfully rendered by Mr. Sellon in arranging the plans and otherwise serving as the dependable, guiding spirit while construction was in progress, he has made many new friends in Nevada County and will be kept well in mind when there is further pretentious construction work in the offing.

Wife: "Dear, I saw the sweetest little hat downtown today."

Husband: "Put it on; let's see how you look in it."

C. J. TOBIASSEN COMPETENT LAW GUARDIAN

The sensible enforcement of approved law and order in all departments of this nation's public and private life is, at best, a delicate and difficult task and calls for sound sense and judgment on the part of courageous officials duly chosen by the people to function in this very important capacity. While, therefore, reviewing for the information of our readers at home and beyond the favored, and we might add, fortunate position in which Nevada County finds itself at this writing in its various branches of useful welfare endeavor, a good word is deservedly due Sheriff C. J. Tobiassen for the painstaking and very efficient manner in which he has conducted the affairs of his well organized department since assuming the responsibilities that very essential office entails.

Imbued, as he is, with vision, sound sense and above all, a marked undestanding of human nature in its many sidelights, not only has Sheriff Tobiassen maintained the dignity of his office at a very high standard, but in the fearless, conscientious exercise of the authority vested in him, he has, throughout the period of his creditable regime thus far, scored a record for competency and fairness in matters of judicious law enforcement that deservedly entitles Nevada County to favorable rank with any of the better governed districts of this state and nation.

Surrounding himself with able assistants of undoubted, sterling character and proven honesty, nothing has been, or is being overlooked by Sheriff Tobiassen that would tend to facilitate the economic operation of every phase of the work in hand. Indeed, Sheriff Tobiassen is ever and always on the alert to accomplish the things that have long distinguished this county's more outstanding public servants.

To this end the great good accomplished by Sheriff Tobiassen and his efficient staff of deputies in the faithful carrying out of every duty, whether of minor or major importance, is a matter of which the discriminating taxpayers of Nevada County have the right to be truly proud. In this connection, it need hardly be said that the good work commenced on the outset by Sheriff Tobiassen and scrupulously carried on, notwithstanding formidable handicaps encountered since taking office, will, it is safe to predict, be painstakingly continued so long as the county's thinking citizenry elects to keep Sheriff Tobiassen at the helm.

For our own part we have nothing but praise for the splendid showing consistently made by Sheriff Tobiassen, and we have reason to believe this carefully considered viewpoint is whole-heartedly shared by the rank and file of the county's law abiding, home loving residents.

E. R. BUNDY EXPEDT SHOE SPECIALIST

Miners and their deserving, dependent families, and thinking residents of Nevada City, Grass Valley and the county as a whole, have long had ample opportunity to be grateful for the efficient, expert shoe repair services constantly being turned out by the skilled hands of Mr. E. R. Bundy. Mr. Bundy's scientifically fitted up, electric shoe repair shop at 121 Mill Street, Grass Valley, is, all things considered, perhaps one of the most modern, well managed, home owned enterprises of the kind in the whole of Nevada County.

Using, as he does only the finest and best leather, findings and kindred high grade materials that money can buy, and executing every job undertaken in such a practical, tradesman-like manner as to insure perfect ease and comfort to the human foot, it is no wonder Mr. Bundy, by virture of his fair and honorable dealing with the public, has deservedly won for himself, and his newly renovated and correctly equipped Bundy's Leather Shop, the esteem and good will of all who know him.

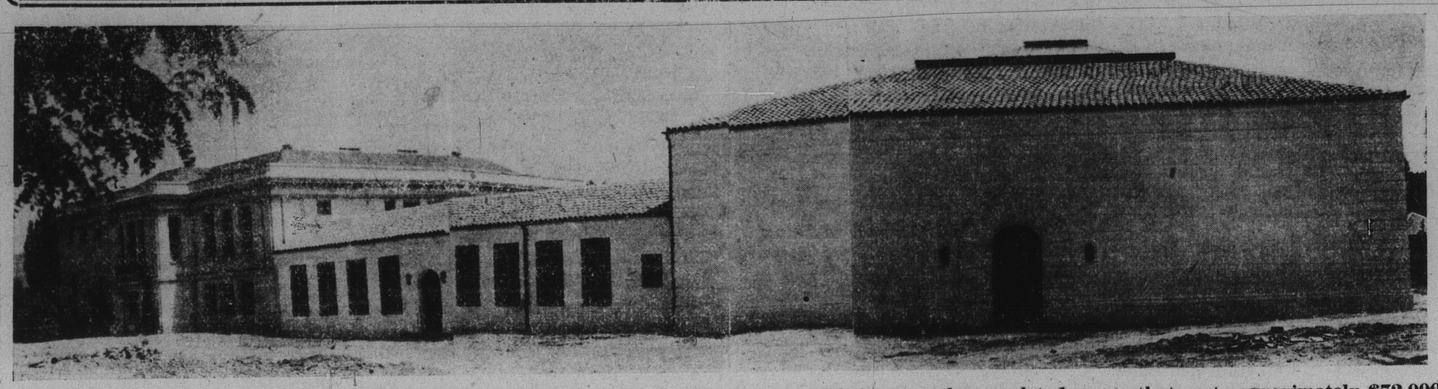
NEVADA CITY'S BEAUTIFUL, COMMODIOUS AND MODERN HIGH SCHOOL



This is a view, taken from the highway, of the Nevada City high school, with its recently completed annex that cost approximately $72,000. The addition contains four new class rooms and a combined gymnasium and auditorium, all built around a court. Later on it is expected to build a stage at the southern end of the auditorium, and beneath the stage will be rooms for classes in manual training.

THIS COURT HOUSE IS THE PRIDE OF NEVADA COUNTY

Today and yesterday! Above—The Nevada County court house as it is now; right—as it was before reconstruction, remodeling and enlarging commenced.

—Courtesy P. G. & E. Progress

The new county court house, built around and in front of the old structure, thoroughly modernized and equipped with an automatic elevator, cost the county, with furnishing and decorating about $115,000. It contains practically twice the floor space of the old structure, and in the foyer of the building are drawings showing the first court house, the second and third, and the last and best. In P. G. & E. Progress recently appeared an excellent article describing this splendid building of which every tax payer may well be proud.

NEVADA COUNTY COURT HOUSE CREDIT TO LINDGREN AND SWINERTON

The newly remodeled and reconstructed Nevada County Court House furnishes eloquent testimony, should the same be needed, respecting the concerted effort constantly being put forth by Nevada County's far-sighted officialdom, and the thinking taxpayers generally, in an earnest endeavor to keep fully abreast of the times.

In point of architectural beauty, substantial construction and practical exterior and interior arrangement, this thoroughly modern building reflects well on the prosperous twin cities and other communities of Nevada County, and will long stand as an enduring monument to the credit of the nationally reputable contracting firm of Lindgren and Swinerton Incorporated, whose fine handiwork here, as elsewhere, is not infrequently a topic of animated conversation.

Building contrats of various kind and description undertaken and efficiently and satisfactorily executed by Lindgren and Swinerton with promptness and dispatch, within and without the state of California, in recent years, represent an aggregate cost in excess of $50,000,000.00. Of this work the imposing Standad Oil Building in San Francisco heads the list with a cash outlay of $5,100,000.00. The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company's Coast Division Building, San Francisco, $4,200,000.00. California-Hawaiian Sugar Refining Company, Crockett, California, $4,000,000.00. Royal Hawaiian Hotel, Honolulu, Hawaii, $3,000,000.00. Hunter-Dulin Building, San Francisco, $2,500,000.00. Hotel Sir Francis Drake, San Francisco, $2,250,000,000. Four Fort Sutter Building, San Francisco, $3,100,000.00. Adam Grant Building, San Francisco, $2,000,000.00. American Can Company Plant, Sacramento, $2,000,000.00.

Space will not here permit complete tabulation of the additional extensive contracts painstakingly executed by Lindgren and Swinerton in various sections of California and beyond. Suffice to briefly state, the cost of these numerous buildings varied from one hundred and twenty five thousand dollars to two million, seven hundred thousand dollars, and all, needless to state, are shining examples of modern American ingenuity and time honored, inherent thrift and progression.

No wonder discerning local residents are glad, indeed proud, to link the widely known trade name of Lindgren and Swinerton Incorporated, with the construction of Nevada County's fine new Court House.

RALPH H. COCHRANE RESPECTED IN BUILDING TRADE

Conscientious, responsible building contractors as a class easly constitute one of the most important, and at the same time essential, useful elements of trade specialists in this or any other country under the sun. Hence our valid reason, while reviewing the marked business and industrial growth and expansion which has, for upward of a century, kept Nevada County well in the public eye, for linking the respected name of Mr. Ralph H. Cochrane as an outstanding and always dependable constructionist who has consistently played a worthy part in this outstanding achievement.

Many of the county's more attractive, palatial, private homes, business houses, churches, educational and other institutions have been successfully brought into being under the careful, personal supervision of Mr. Cochrane. Broad-gaged in his views, progressive in his methods and always actuated with a keen sense of duty in faithfully safeguarding the best economic interests of those who have long ago learned to place the utmost confidence in him, it is no wonder Ralph H. Cochrane is among the most sought after and busiest building contractors in the whole of Northern California.

In conjunction with the execution of much local work at present under way, including the imposing, new Methodist Church in Grass Valley, Mr. Cochrane's mature practical and technical experience in all phases of the building trades has this year won for him a great deal of new work at and adjacent to Lake Tahoe. It should be noted for the enlightenment of readers generally, that Mr. Cochrane is the responsible, and we might add, popular Manager of the Lake Tahoe Construction Company.

This firm has been advisedly selected to execute some very important contracts for widely known financial and investment corporations actively engaged in a great building campaign which, when completed, will add materially to the residential and resort attractions that deservedly distinguish our own internationally famous Lake Tahoe as being among the more popular scenic and social gathering places of the kind in the world.

Enjoying, as he does, the good will and esteem of California's better known architects, construction engineers and government building inspection authorities, and deservedly held in very high regard by all with whom he comes in contact in Grass Valley, Nevada City, and Nevada County as a whole, the Nevada City Nugget, it will readily be seen, has ample justification to refer to Ralph H. Cochrane as a worthy, public-spirited citizen, good neighbor and well disposed, competent tradesman who deserves well of all the people.
